David,
To the little nigger that drives around
in a sports car.
Good luck in Florida
& don't pick up to many girls because they'll get in trouble
every time
Have a don't.

David,
Good luck with everything you do. do
What ever you do. And just forget me.
one more
of this RAT hole year.
Laura (74)

To David -
always remember our great history class (try to forget the teacher!) Well we've got one more year to go in this place. One more year of McDonalds and those Danzig Parties. (Don't forget when you were pledging!)
See ya in Florida!

Kathy

P.S.
try not to get BLACK this time,
it makes everyone else that went ful bad!!

To David
I wish my hair
was like yours.

Rick

David,
A real sweet guy even though you don't speak to me much. Don't forget all the fun times we used to have at the skating rink and at your "shack". Whatever you do don't forget the time we got locked in
Mrs. Carter's closet! Be good and don't forget me.

Love ya,
Cindy "44"

To David
Have a very nice summer. I had fun with you in class.
Looking forward to seeing you
next year.

Languages

There are no handles upon a language

Whereby men can take hold of it

And mark it with signs for its remembrance.

It is a river, this language,

Once in a thousand years

Breaking a new course,

Changing its way to the ocean.

It is mountain effluvia

Moving to valleys,

And from nation to nation,

Crossing borders and mixing.

Languages die like rivers.

Words wrapped round your tongue today

And broken to shape of thought

Between your teeth and lips speaking

Now and today,

Shall be faded hieroglyphics

Ten thousand years from now.

Sing - and singing - remember

Your song dies and changes,

And is not here tomorrow.

Any more than the wind blowing,

Ten thousand years ago.

THE PEAK OF SENECA WEEK

Probably the most relaxed Redskins of all time gathered to enjoy the cooperatively prepared fun that Friday. It was the end of the school week. Add to that the pleasures of eating your favorite afternoon snack as you casually select and toss a sponge dripping with whipped cream at your very favorite (?) teacher or principal. Play games to win prizes for your steady, or smash the sledge hammer up and down through the top of a car as your friends admiringly applaud your muscles. Great!!

The Redskins' Student Council Induction Of 1973 Leaders

At an early morning student council meeting on May fifteenth, the student council officers of the past year performed their last duties as officers. Following Greg Tandy's final speech as president, the old officers inducted their successors in a candle-light ceremony. After the installations, Tom McKenzie, the new president, proceeded to speak about the student council's goals for the following year. A breakfast of doughnuts, milk, and coffee and a period of fellowship ended the occasion.

The presidency is accepted by Tom McKenzie.

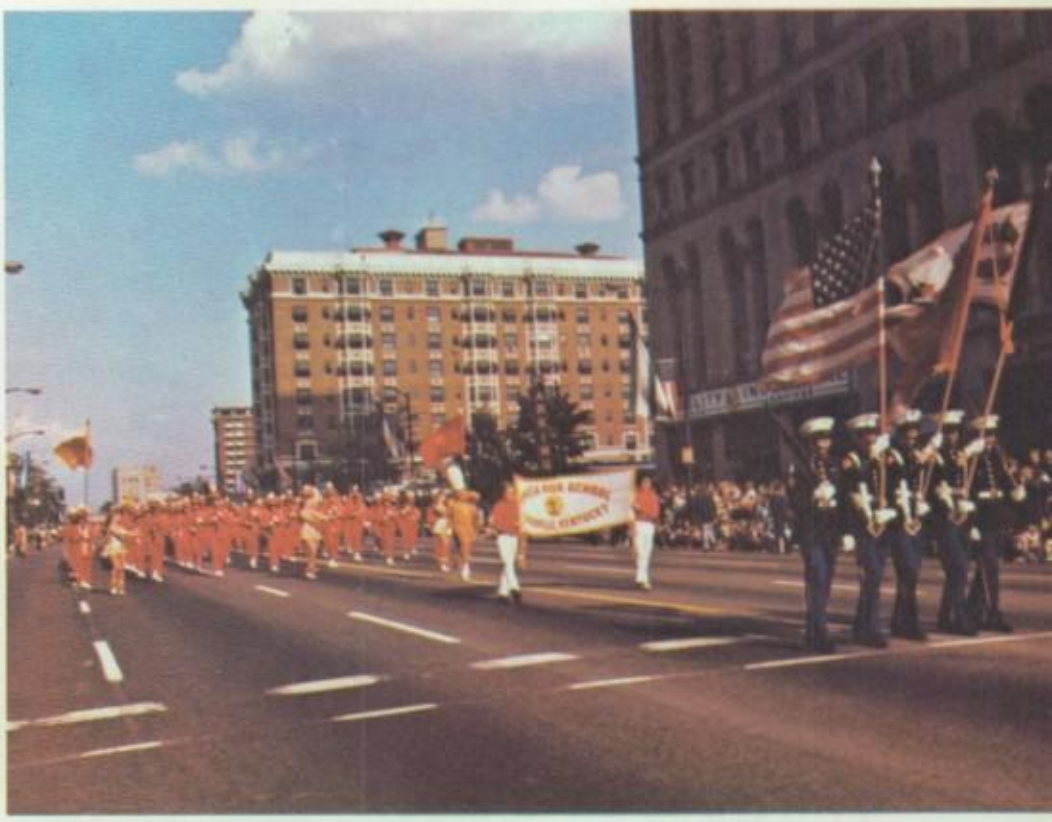
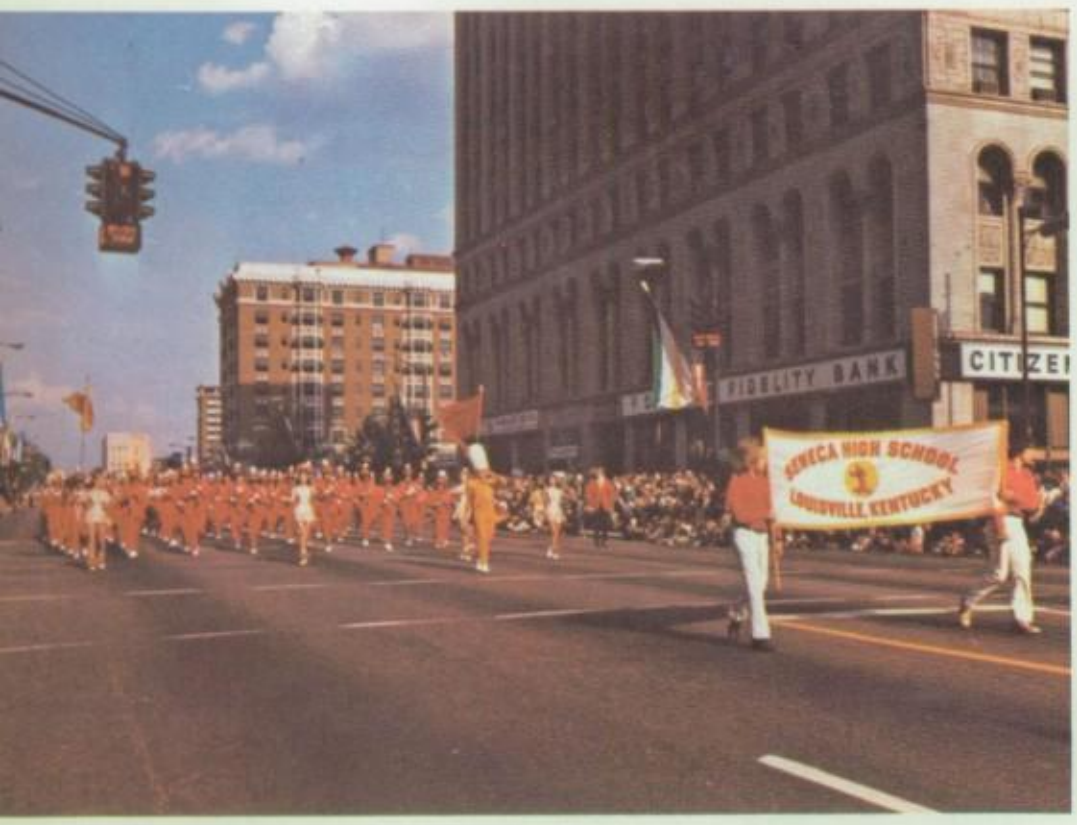
1972 Spring Activities





Derby Parade

On May 4, Redskins took over Broadway when they were invited to participate in the annual Pegasus Parade. Representing Seneca were the Color Guard, Marching Band, Majorettes, Drill Corps., and fellow Redskins, who were part of the enthusiastic crowd.

By participating in community activities, our students develop the potential to become better citizens.

Style Show

Spring is a busy time of year at Seneca. Activities are carefully planned for the students. One special "happening" is reserved for the Juniors and Seniors - the Style Show.

The second annual Spring Style Show, held on May 2, introduced the latest styles of formal and casual wear. The clothes modeled by Seniors were provided by various popular stores of Oxmoor Center.

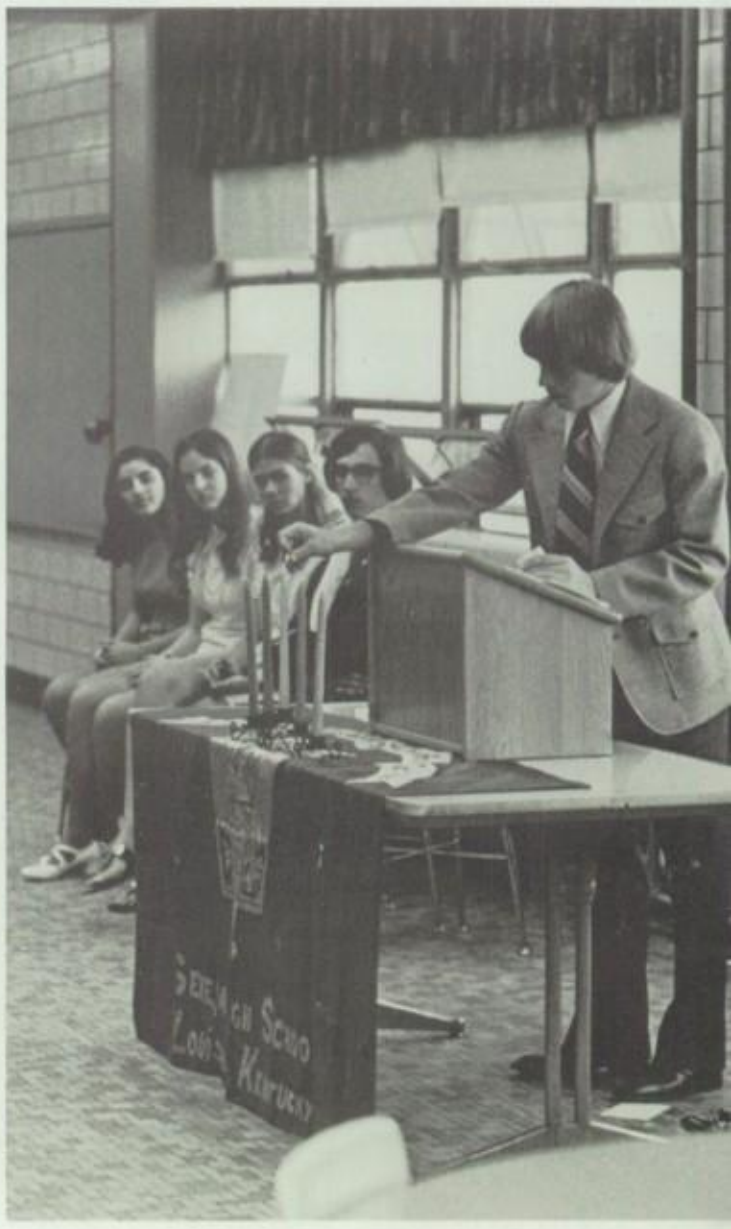
The entire show, co-ordinated by Senior, Steve Edelen, sponsored by Mr. Chuck Franklin, and narrated by Miss Pat Karem, created a "unique" atmosphere memorable to the on-lookers.

National Honor Society Spring Inductions

On May 16, in an unannounced ceremony, 23 members of the junior class were awarded for their high standards of scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activities of service and accomplishment, and their qualities of character and leadership. Before an assembly of old N.H.S. members and parents of the inductees, qualifications for membership were explained, eulogies were read, and the inductees were presented with certificates of membership. In the seriousness of the ceremony, the new members experienced first reactions of happiness, pride, and success, but most important of all, they were given the initiative to continue to reach for goals of success.

Debbie Korfhage lights the ceremony candles.

Inductees listen as ...



N.H.S. standards are explained by President James Denny.

The Seneca choral performed for the assembly.

The Junior year culminated with the Junior Ring Assembly which was held May 5, 1972. Months of waiting passed and many juniors were impatient to receive the ring that would signify their rank of senior. The ceremony, which preceded the ring presentation, was one of seriousness and solemnity. Speeches were made by class officers, administrators, and guest speakers, while music was provided by the chorale. Outstanding juniors received awards for achievement in certain areas before the time came for the distribution of the rings. The impatience the juniors previously had, broke forth into chaos as they rushed to get their rings. At last, the time had come.

We will soon be seniors. During 1972-1973 we will head the school. Our girls are attractive and certainly dependable enough to assume the duties of ushering at Graduation 1972.

Spring Review

The Seneca ROTC unit, under the direction of Col. Cool and Sgt. Conrad, hold a spring review each year. The purpose of these reviews is to demonstrate the knowledge gained in the past year and to award medals to those who deserve them. This year there were seven cadets that received awards for their merits. Lonesome wishes the unit the best of luck in the future.

The Fantasticks

Conniving fathers plot a romance.

Pattie Petry and Mike Farah in song.

The curtain was drawn on musical numbers, and a once quiet audience became a part of the show. After many years of Fall Broadway musicals, a change came - Spring productions. Seneca's Drama Department saw new horizons with the help of Director, Eugene Stickler.

"Egad, What a Cad!" A hiss, a villain; a boo, a cheat; a hero, his love.

"The Fantasticks" introduced: Two lovers; two irate fathers; an Indian; El Gallo.

In this way, potential talent was revealed to develop an enlarged theatre program.

The Senior class presented a splendid reproduction of the Broadway musical "MAME!" The play was an overwhelming success, not only to the actors and Director, Eugene Stickler, but to the whole Senior class, as each show was a sell-out. The outstanding actors, scenery, costumes, music, and the mood captivated the imagination of the audience throughout the production.

Once again, for your unique "know-how" Mr. Stickler, we commend you and the "stars" of MAME!

We predict that Seneca's expanded drama department will outdo Broadway, New York.

The senior's image changes frequently during Senior Week. You see the "the kid on bike" followed by the concentrating exam taking "am I right" frown, wrinkling brows. Such seriousness changes to joy and smiles on Senior banquet and Awards Day. Pride gleams on the faces of those that are commended and given awards for special talents and service.

As the molten gold of the sun slipped over the western horizon, the night air seemed too chilly for a cruise up the river on a stern-wheeler. But upon crossing the well worn gangplank, we found Belle of Louisville was as warm as ever. The versatile Exiles excited the sports-clad '72ers to frantic gyrations. The chaperones even tried to keep up with the beat. Flashbulbs exploded as cameras recorded pictures for memory books.

In contrast the wellgroomed Seniors and Dates, attired in the latest formal wear, stepped over a footbridge into a four hour revel at "Summer of '72" their last prom. Class officers assemble for Baccalaureate.

"This certifies that the Seneca High School class of 1972 has completed the course of study prescribed by the Board of Education for the High School Department and each graduate is therefore entitled to this diploma."

These words summarized four years of work and fun experienced by each of the graduates, and the evening climaxed a period of time that had once seemed long but had now proved to be too short.

The Coliseum at the Fairgrounds was filled with relatives and friends who listened as intently as the graduates to class president Steve Bush deliver the Invocation which was followed by an appropriately selected poem and song.

Congressman Romano Mazzoli, introduced by his cousin, Robb Mazzoli, urged all youth to dedicate itself to the future of our country and to vote in all matters concerning it.

Following the message came the moment all had awaited - the awarding of the diplomas. A feeling of happiness, satisfaction, and freedom mixed with apprehension filled each graduate's mind as he stepped forward in answer to his name to receive his diploma from one of our school's three principals, Mr. McDowell, Mr. Craigmyle, and Mr. Burch.

The pronouncing of the Benediction by class vice-president Tom Burwinkle put a touch of finality on attaining this goal.

Graduates — Alumni

Life seems to be a series of events we cannot wait to attain - plateaus of achievement at which we yearn to advance to the next level.

One important plateau is graduation from high school. From this point we preceed our various ways. However, one fact that is irreversible is that we will never again return to being secondary school students - we have now reached that lifelong status called alumnihood.

At some time in the future you will return to a reunion of your classmates. Then you will realize, if you haven't before that time, that there is quite a bit of truth in that hackneyed old message carried by the words: "Old friends are the best friends after all."

TODAY'S GRADUATES ARE TOMORROW'S ALUMNI

The 1972 varsity baseball season was a big achievement for our Seneca Redskins. Under the excellent leadership of coach Jackson the team compiled a 14-8 record and a district title.

Through many hard weeks of practicing and seasonal competition the Redskins were respected for their explosive hitting. Many times when a Seneca loss was inevitable the Redskins would come from behind to insure a victory. With the returning lettermen and a fine J.V. team the Redskins are looking forward to another fine season.

J.V. Baseball

Under the direction of Coach Fox, the 1972 J.V. baseball team posted a 7-7 record. Although not the record of a top rated club, the team showed much talent and sportsmanship. With ability possessed in the J.V. team, varsity baseball at Seneca is very promising.

Tennis Team Serves A Purpose

The 1972 tennis team was plagued by losses: Allan Plattus and Don Paper by graduation in addition to the losses of Dan Ritchie and Bevan Kushner. To add to the disabilities, Dan Rothstein injured his foot and was unable to play. The season was not a complete loss, however. Posting a 4-3 record Forrest Flaniken and Allan Kleinman qualified for the region singles. Marty Morguelan and Mike Brody qualified for the doubles. Perhaps next year Dan Rothstein and Danny Ritchie can return with Morguelan and Kleinman to take the county title for 1973.

Golf Team Drives Its Way To The Top

As the 1971 golf season closed, things looked bright for our Seneca linksmen. Three out of four players would return to play on the 1972 team. Of the three Jim Staats and Eddie Busse returned. Unfortunately Phil Denzinger was involved in an accident and was unable to play.

Led by Staats and Busse the team compiled a 7-1 record only to find that they were 11 strokes away from qualifying for the state tourney as a team. Jim Staats did qualify as an individual and Ed Busse was only two shots away.

Coveted first man Kenny Hickman and Steve Frank will carry the 1973 load along with rookie sensation, Ralph Reasor.

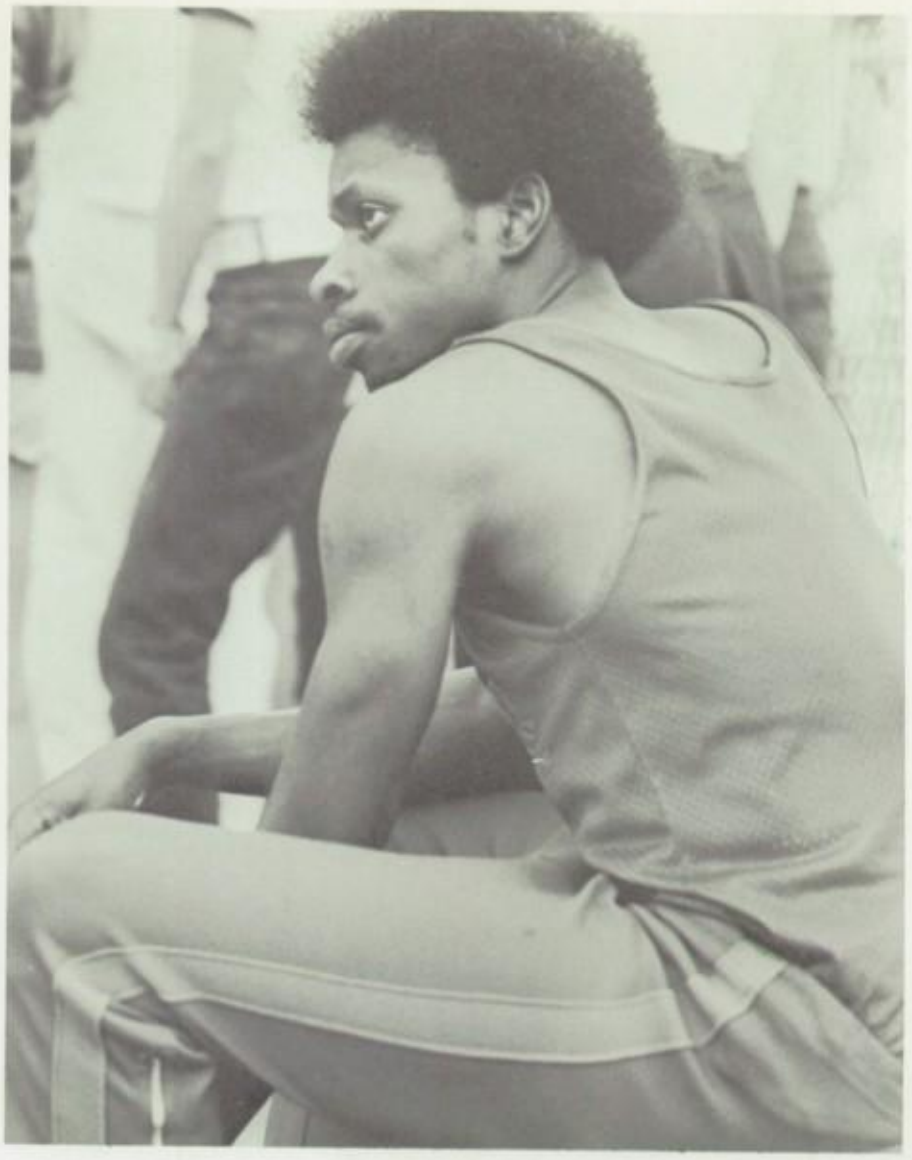
JIM McKENZIE



RALPH PETTWAY

The Spring of 1972 brought Redskin track fans another season of exciting action in the field as well as on the cinder.

Under the guidance of Coach Gabhart, the superbly balanced squad earned a 3-2 won-lost record in regular competition. Some highlights of their multi-meet action were a third place finish in the Stuart Invitational and a second place performance in the Louisville Invitational where they finished a single point behind Male, the AAA champion.

While his coaching talents are not to be disclaimed, even Coach Gabhart must have considered himself lucky to have such standouts as Ralph Pettway in the 100 and 200 yard dashes. Bill Randle in the hurdling events and long jump, triple jump, and high jump, Jim McKenzie in the pole vault, Harry Hayden in the long jump, and David Mayer in the shot put and discus. The 880 yard and mile relay team also performed well.

A new track coach will be on the scene this season with a fine crop of Juniors and Sophomores returning. Good luck Coach Simpson in the '73 season.

The girls tennis team moved closer and closer to its ultimate goal of building a strong tennis program at Seneca. The girls gained experience and enjoyed the spirit of competition in the matches against other schools.

Under the leadership of Miss Richardson, the team showed the pride and dedication typical of the Redskin tribe. Even though they did not have a championship record, their hard work and perseverence were enough to prove them true champions.

A bright future is certain for the team which will have many fine players returning in '73.

Scene 1. . .
Take 1. . .
Action!

In May, 1972, the Redskins were privileged to view a film photographed on Seneca's campus a few months earlier. The actors featured were the Junior Marine Reserve Officers Training Corps members.

We had observed the big vans full of cameras, lights, and power equipment without fully realizing what a high honor Colonel Cool and his young men had brought to their high school.

The movie was colorful, entertaining, and informative. It stressed the importance of participation in support of our great nation as a strengthening force and influence in a young man's development into a mature, patriotic, and well educated citizen capable of assuming leadership in his society.

Arrow Versus Sentinel

The Stars prepare their plays.

Then the Stars carefully execute their strategy.

On a warm, gray afternoon in September, two football powers met for the first time: The Arrow Staff Air Devils and the Sentinel Stars. It proved to be a long day for the Air Devils, as the Stars tipped the scales in muscle, experience, and man-power. However, the Arrow Staff, heavy underdogs, made a respectable showing. Amid the Sentinel flurry of scores, the Arrow made two extraordinary touchdown plays. The first came midway in the second quarter when onrushing David Shipley batted a Sentinel pass into the air. The ball landed in the arms of Jim Warren who raced 60 yards for the score. The second came late in the game on a 40 yard touchdown pass from quarterback Eddie Laity to Mike Shields. However, all Air Devil efforts were in vain as they were outscored by the Stars, 36-12. Needless to say, the Arrow staff is anxiously awaiting basketball season.

SENIOR HIGH

Lonesome's Legend

The south battlement of Seneca High School, just above the loading zone, is still MY favorite lookout. The view has changed some since I first scaled this wall, but the changes are all for the better in my humble opinion.

Many of you Redskins arrive by bus each morning. You look healthy, strong, and intent on getting the most out of every moment of your valuable day. I am getting a bit gray at the temples now. You know what I mean; Indians show wear and tear, too! Since I now know and understand how quickly time goes by here, I feel relieved to know that you are not wasting any of your few precious school years.

The Kenneth B. Farmer Physical Education Building added a noticeable dimension to the Seneca skyline. It also contributed many spacious square feet for use by our Seneca warriors during gym classes, afternoon practice sessions of basketball, as well as a terrific rifle range for our JMROTC units, enabling them to shine when competing with other like organizations. Those young men rate high on my Redskin totem pole. They are preparing themselves to take men's places in the citizen ranks.

When I wrote the first installment of this legend for you in the 1967 ARROW, I called your attention to many of the interesting items I had learned concerning our city, county, and state. All three of these have made tremendous strides since that particular section of my Lonesome's Legend was printed.

Louisville is now undergoing a tremendous urban renewal which I hope you will follow carefully because this city is YOUR city. Future ARROW editions will keep you up to date on what happens in our favorite area. Here is a "for instance"; I am going to the Kentucky Derby this year. A friend of mine has a box at Churchill Downs and wants to show his high regard for the Indian minority by saving a front row seat for Lonesome. He is behind the times if he thinks MY three thousand Redskins are a minority. We have always been "top dog" and we intend to stay that way.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky is still the garden spot of the world. I can hardly wait to visit the newly discovered continuations of Mammoth Cave and the beautiful state parks that have been opened since I made the trip up to Louisville from Dogpatch in 1958. I keep saying to myself, "Lonesome, take the time to travel; try it; you'll like it." But, I just can't miss the things that are always happening here. By the time my hair is as white as my sideburns, I may make it to all those great places.

The changes that I find most interesting are right here under my own nose, so to speak. Jefferson County has developed almost past recognition in the last seven years. Farmland has become a strange commodity. Everywhere you look you see a new subdivision of attractive homes. No doubt pleasant suburban living combined with new industries has attracted or created some of the enormous influx of people into Jefferson County. Every time a new plant is erected, a new industry started, the building contractors construct many new apartment houses. If you had spent your early years in a teepee as I did, you would also consider this a remarkable phenomenon. One of Seneca's teachers of social studies says this causes "severe lack of pride in home ownership," one of today's increasing problems. I just visit the class occasionally; those of you who take the course probably could explain it much better than I.

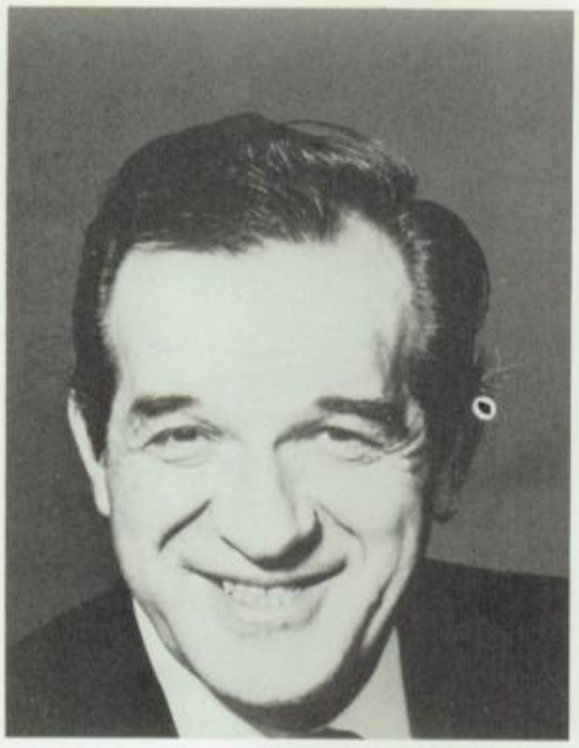
The growth of suburban shopping centers has astounded me. In November I talked with twenty-six Senaca students and alumni working in the large department stores or specialty shops at Oxmoor, the Mall, and Bashford Manor. Our mathematics teachers do a great job for the merchants; Seneca students get the jobs!

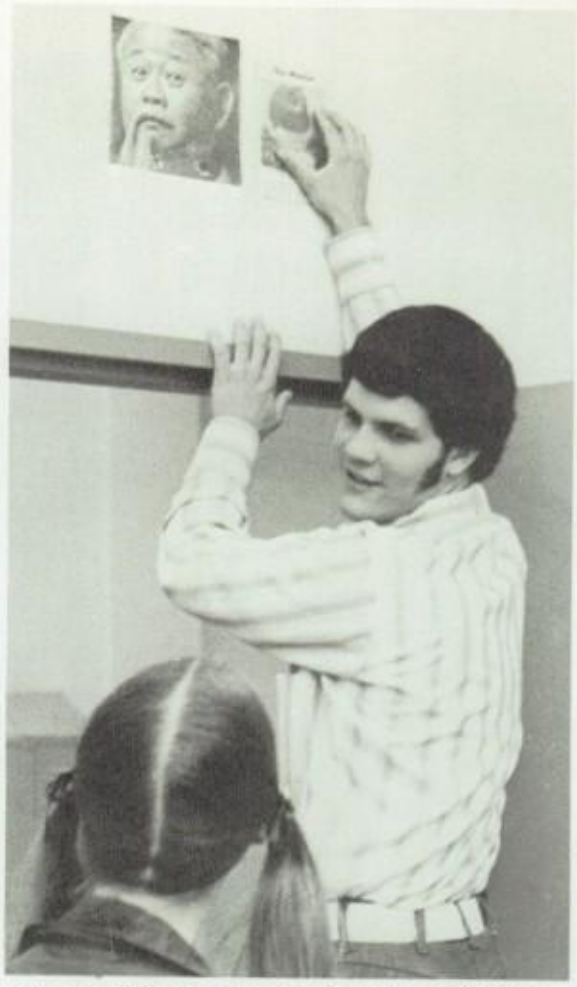
You can broadcast it to the world, if you want to. Lonesome has always been, and will continue to be, one of the persons connected with Seneca who talks with and brags about our students, present or alumni. Mrs. Smith, Seneca's librarian since 1958, feels much the same way. The center picture to your left was part of a Homecoming '72 exhibit in the library. Meet a couple of champions: Diane Sawyer who is a member of the White House Press Staff and Westley Unseld, a powerhouse basketball player, in his third year with the Baltimore Bullets.

Lonesome's Legend



Mr. Al Capp:
Even though you insist on accenting my pot belly, beaked nose, and my turned-up toes, you're a real pal! Please accept my sincere thanks for the sixteen years at Seneca. Each day has been GREAT!

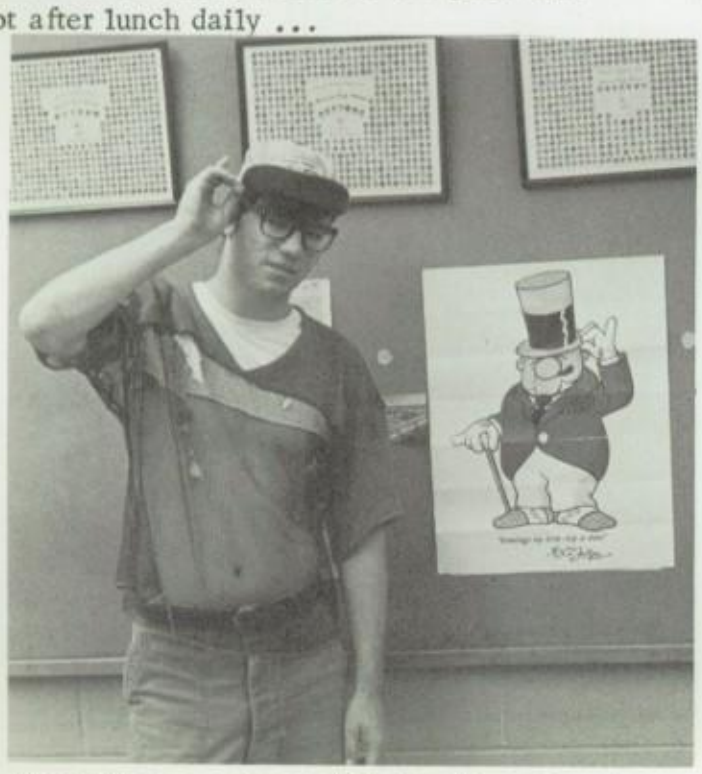
Lonesome



Gary Volk mounts the latest addition to the Wong family.

Some students meet friends at this particular spot after lunch daily ...

others enjoy a peaceful stroll across the grassy center courtyard via the Student Council walkway.



Tom Balmer, winner of Senior "Rags Day," salutes white shirt and tie, the layered look and granny glasses, commonly called "wires" worn by lovely, long-haired Leigh Armstrong.

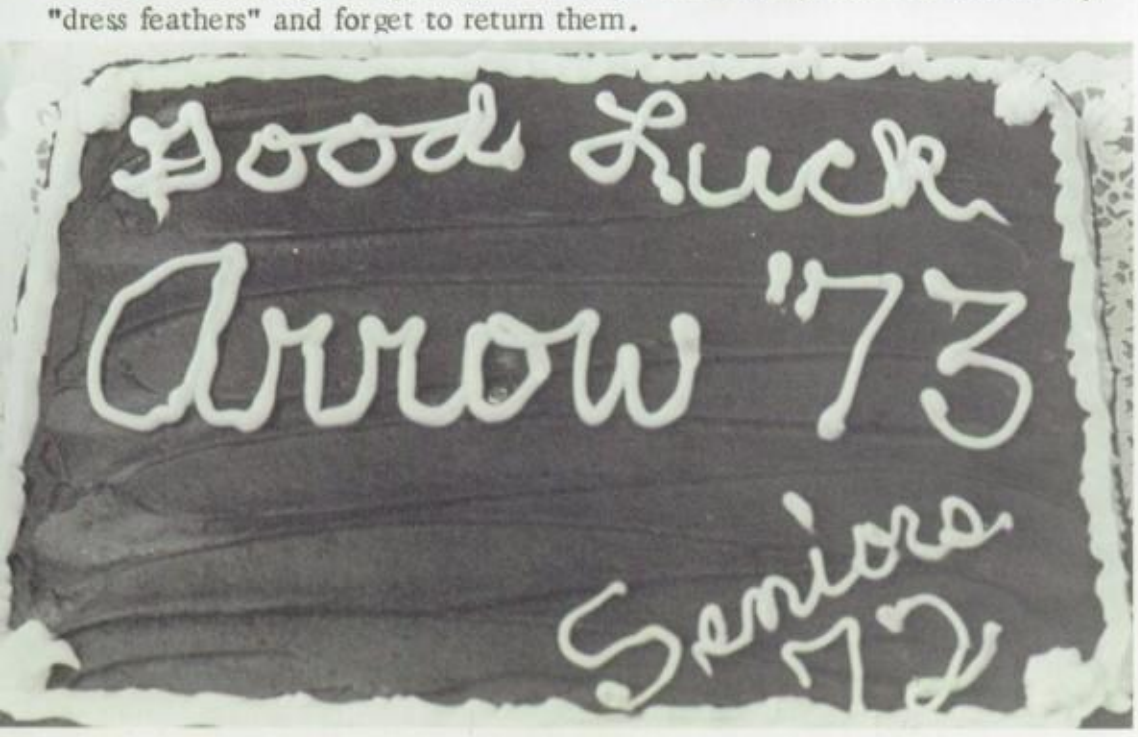
These cheerleaders speak with authority, so if you know what's good for you ... "Everyone for Seneca, stand up and holler!"

If there is anything that gets my Indian up, it's having someone borrow my "dress feathers" and forget to return them.



ARROW staff Seniors '72 couldn't have chosen a finer group to eat their "farewell with good wishes" cake. Bless them!

NEW DEVELOPMENTS SINCE 1966-67.

I have mentioned the fact that time and interesting happenings at Seneca have kept me on the job. In fact, I compiled a check list of outstanding events, divided it into three categories, and decided to make a copy of the list for you.

Exterior changes on Seneca's campus:

Removal of many portable buildings.
Erection of a new gymnasium.
Enlargement of all parking lots.
The highest flag pole hereabouts.
Students smoking on the grounds.
Concrete walkway across courtyard.

Interior changes within school:

Colorful coordinated draperies.
Red and gold Senior lunchroom.
Cheery, quieting carpet in office.
Faculty lounges carpeted the same.
Seneca sport coats worn in office.
Model office in Business Department.
Computer classes use actual computer.
Color sets in T-V reception rooms.

Changes directly affecting students:

New sports equipment; uniforms.
Development of girls' sports.
Spring style shows for students.
Seneça Week - great fun.
More young teachers in classrooms.
Girls Rifle Team.
Mat girls - wrestling squad.
Bat girls - baseball teams.
Hi-Q winners gained national fame.
Drama Department development.
Driver's Education.
Special Education of every kind.
Adoption of Elective Quarter Program.

E.-Q.-P.
1972-1973

Everywhere you turn you come face-to-face with the so-called "new look." The present fashions in style vary with the individual. Some prefer very informal clothing for all occasions, even school wear. Levis are the one item everyone of the Redskins like, it seems. Evidently, hair must be worn long, preferably over the collar for males, to the waist for females. Whether boy or girl bell-bottoms and the layered look are "in" at Seneca. Blue, green, and purple nail polish worn by the fashion conscious squaws here would have made my feminine ancestors jealous.

The "new look" has spread to education. Instead of enduring that despised course for an entire year, you can relax, knowing that it will be over in just twelve weeks! That is one advantage of the Elective Quarter Plan. Other conveniences experienced are cheaper book costs and overall fees, due to a rental fee charged in many courses.

In an effort to create one of the most advanced school systems in the United States, one which has become widely known as an education pioneer, the inventive and forward looking members of the Jefferson County Board of Education ushered in a new era for public school pupils of the system.

For the first time students may elect to attend school or be on vacation. The main goal of the EQP is to give students freedom of choice in subjects elected as well as quarters of attendance. Superintendent VanHoose, all Associate Superintendents, members of the staff of subject matter supervisors, administrations and teachers within all our schools, along with parents and students cooperated in informing the public and writing new cirricula for implementation of the EQP.

It has been an interesting school year. Many pupils were able to include variety subjects that could not be fitted into their former rigid schedules.

Two vacation days are allotted students between quarters. The teachers use these days to close books on one quarter and enroll the students for the succeeding period.

The counselors at Seneca High School also have discovered that the EQP plan is more than just the addition of a summer quarter. In fact, the counselors are the moveable parts which plot the course for all four quarters. Their new responsibilities other than counseling students include scheduling for each individual quarter and planning ahead for the following quarters. It is a job which requires constant attention and cooperation of every student. The Redskin counselors are to be commended for services thus rendered.

Our Chiefs

Our chiefs have great goals for Seneca. They want Redskin students to be: Tops academically; sportsmen to point to with pride; sincere, warm, friendly people who will promote the cooperation that makes Seneca the best school in the county.

Shoulder to shoulder, they solve the responsibilities they have assumed, earning the respect of the students daily. December 22, Mr. McDowell reported:

ACHIEVEMENTS - 1972

Honor Roll - over 400 students. Football - Steve Dix, Chris Roberts - honorable mention, All-state. JCL - 11 awards, State convention; Stanley Hodge, State president. The elective-quarter plan came to Seneca this fall, bringing with it the influx of bright new teachers. These teachers have added not only their new faces, but new ideas and styles. Their innovations have brought changes to Seneca that are as welcome as they are. Skilled in their respective fields, they have encouraged many students to get involved in the realm of studies the EQP has to offer. The new teachers, along with those who taught here previously, have helped Seneca to change proudly with the times and atmosphere, as Lonesome puts on a new face!

I Teach School

I write no poem
Men's hearts to thrill,
No song I sing
To lift men's souls;
To battle front,
No soldiers lead;
In halls of state
I boast no skill;
I just teach school.

It Seems Like Only Yesterday . . .

We became Redskins as we entered the 7th grade.

We were entering the doors of Seneca for the first time. To all of us, becoming Redskins was a long-awaited goal, but we soon discovered we were only beginning.

As seventh graders, we not only experienced the fun and hard work of Core, P.E., Band, Chorus, Art, Home Ec, and Shop, but we soon became a part of Seneca by involving ourselves in extracurricular activities. Many of us joined the Jr. High Pep Club and avidly supported the Gray-Y teams. Vickie Mather and Julie Hays led us as Student Council officers and Shelley Miller represented us in the calendar contest.

Before we knew it, we were eighth graders and as upperclassmen, we assumed positions of leadership. Dan Rothstein became the Student Council president and Dan Ritchie was elected the state lieutenant governor of the Kentucky Youth Assembly. Also, nine spirited young ladies of our class were chosen to be Gray-Y cheerleaders.

The Gray-Y cheerleaders led our spirit.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

TV stars are born!

If we thought seventh grade passed by quickly, eighth grade really flew. Once again, we became little fish in a big sea, but as freshmen, we made our presence known. Besides being able to choose our own classes, we were given more opportunities to participate in school activities. Our class was well represented in the field of sports and we showed the rest of the school where the beauty was when Barbara Kilness was selected the calendar cover girl. We really felt important when we elected class officers for the first time. Eddie Tillet became our first class president.

Our Sophomore year was the year we really showed that we had something to offer. About 100 of us were inducted into the Beta Club because of our high academic standings and those of us with creative abilities sought positions on the Arrow, Sentinel, and Aurora Staffs. Connie Hummel was elected captain of the Sophomore dominated J. V. Cheerleading squad, Ginger Dunman became a Majorette, and 14 Sophomore girls became Drill Corps members. Diane Kelty was our calendar representative. Others of us participated in sports which include boy's and girl's tennis, swimming, football, basketball, hockey, track, baseball, and wrestling.

As Sophomores, we realized how quickly our high school years were passing and thus realized the closeness of our Senior activities. To raise funds, we held dues drives and we sponsored a very successful Sadie Hawkins Dance in the spring of the year.

J. V. Cheerleaders create enthusiasm.

As Juniors, we suddenly realized how close we were to "the" year, our senior year. The need for real class organization was shown through our choice of class officers. Our 1971-1972 officers were: Tom McKenzie, President; David May, Veep; Susie Spurlock, Sec'y.; Cindy Stone, Treasurer; and Mike Goldring and Charlie Walls, Sgt. at Arms.

In December, our class sponsored the annual Junior Class Talent Show, and managed to make it the most successful one in Seneca's history. Also, in February, we sponsored the Basketball Homecoming.

Debbie Clements, the Junior Class Representative, along with other Juniors, Sandra Overall and Mary Yates, adorned the JCL Calendar.

In May, we received our long-awaited Senior rings. During the Junior Ring Assembly, several of us were honored with well-deserved awards. On May 21, twenty-one of us were inducted into the National Honor Society.

As the year drew to a close, a quiet anticipation overcame us, for we were finally on the threshold.

Business Leaders of Tomorrow

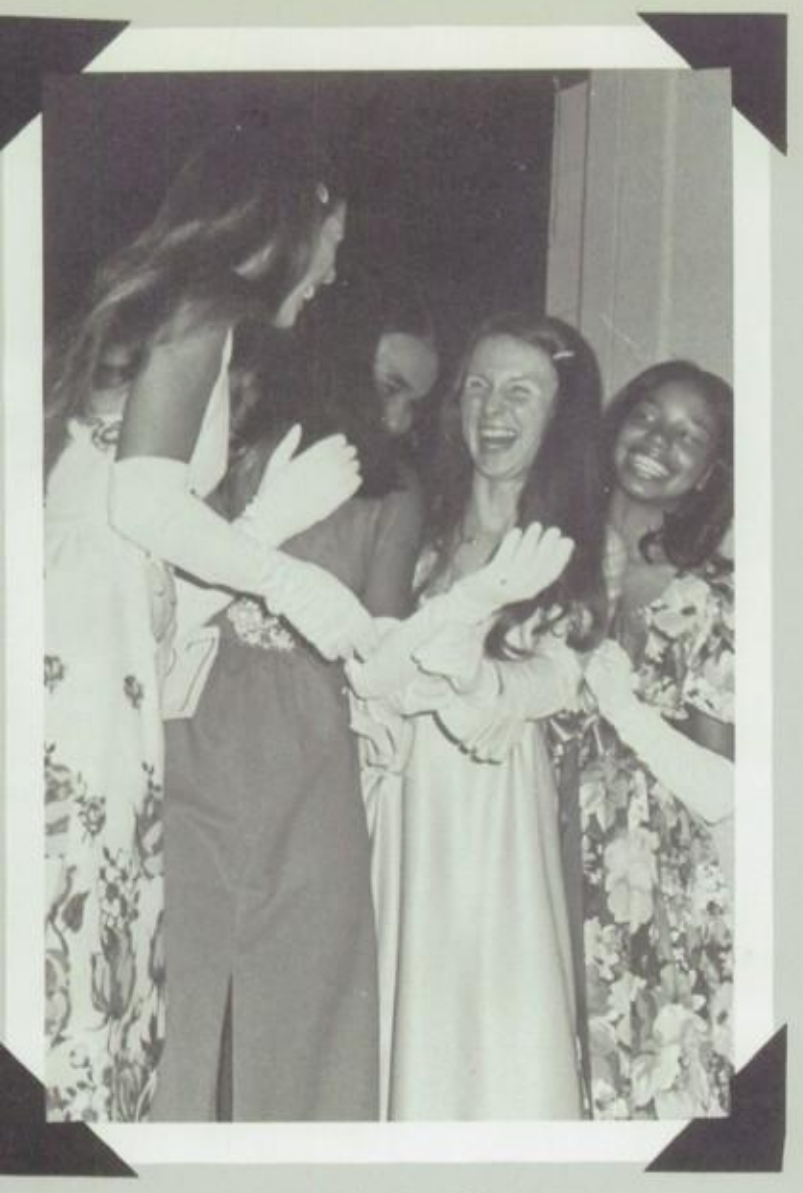
The Human Relations Committee had nine senior members.

It's great being a Senior!

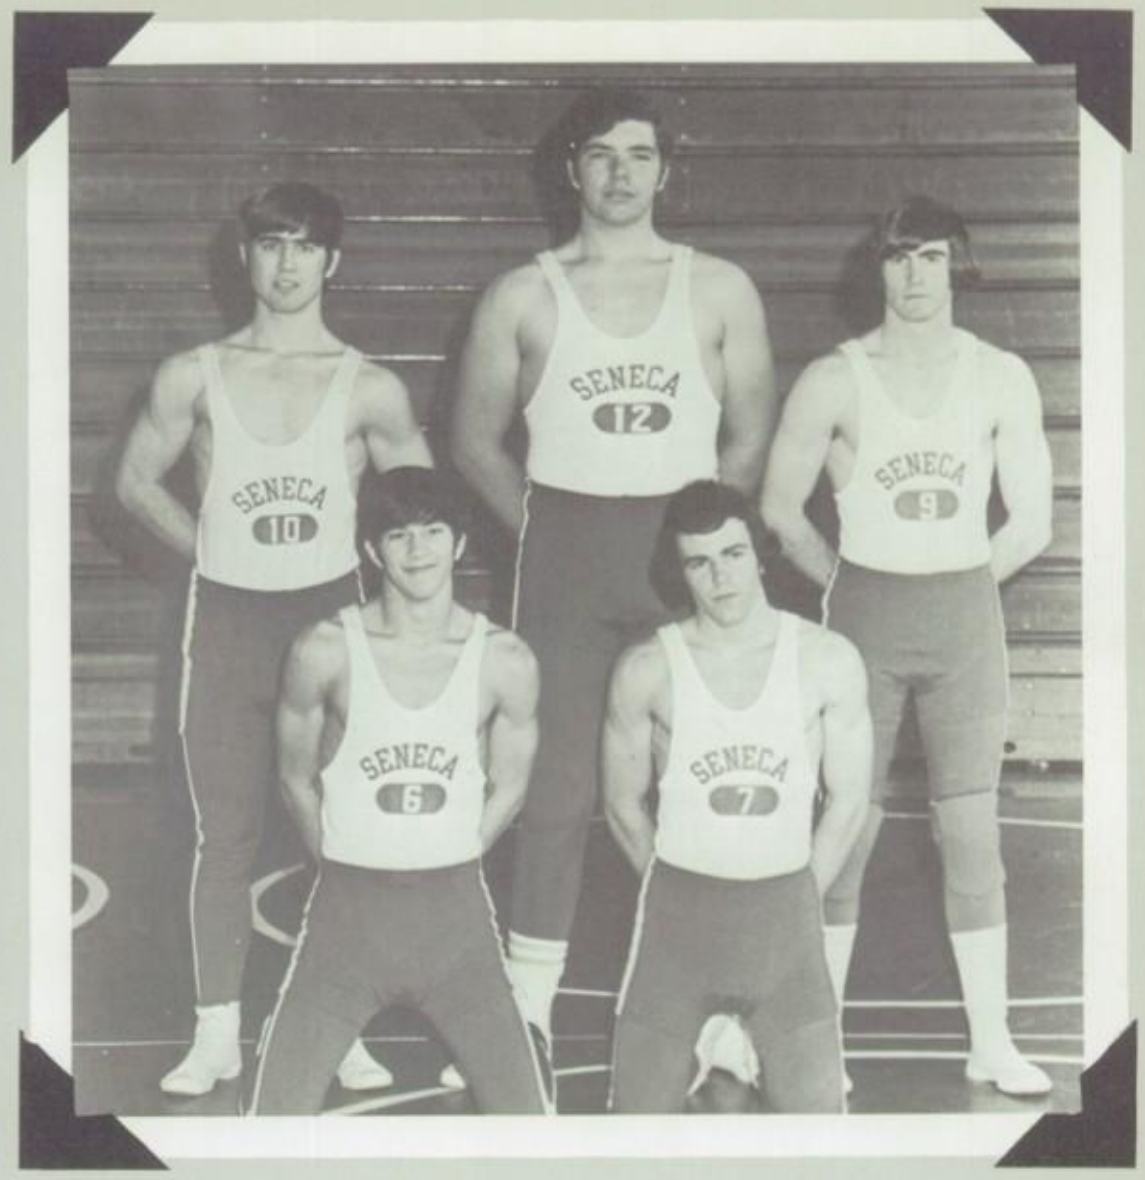
Cheeez!

One, two, three, four ... Let's get together, girls!

Rapt attention.



I won! I won!



The five senior members of the wrestling team.

Almost before we knew it, we were Seniors. It was impossible to believe that we had become the oldest and were the leaders of the school. Several of us accepted positions of responsibility for major organizations: Tim Mountz, Senior Class; Tom McKenzie, Student Council; Eddie Laity, ARROW; Joe Yates, SENTINEL; Joe DeMuth, AURORA; Charlie Walls, N.H.S.; and Leigh Armstrong, Beta Club. The Human Relations Committee, composed of nine seniors and two juniors, was organized to promote understanding.

As the new year began, we plunged into football season. Several seniors were starters on the team, including: Mark Greene, George Logan, David Tillett, Melvin Evans, Charlie Walls, David May, Willie Dix, Tom Balmer, and Ross Cameron. Although our record was not a winning one, spirit and enthusiasm were high. At Football Homecoming, Susie Spurlock was crowned queen with Imogene Bankston, Patty Collins, and Gale Bryant in her court.

The Senior Class continued its domination in the JCL Calendar Contest with seven girls chosen to represent us. They were: Rhonda Anderson, Imogene Bankston, Sandy Barr, Gale Bryant, Lisa Hacker, Debbie Nethery, and Susie Spurlock.

The months of October and November found many of us involved in the production of the Senior Play, "FUNNY GIRL." It starred Karen Weinstein as Fanny Brice and Steve John as Nick Arnstein. With rehearsals lasting until midnight, we learned that practice makes perfect. By opening night every member of the cast and crew had become a unified body determined to make "FUNNY GIRL" the greatest Play ever. With laughter and tears we rejoiced after the final curtain had closed: for a fantastic experience was ending.

Back on the sports scene, the Redskin basketball team was outclassing its opponents with a senior dominated club. Leading 7th Region scoring was Wayne Cosby. He was supported by Eddie Tillett, Melvin Evans, Steve Jones, Jim Doyer, and Doran Dunaway. The wrestling team was off to another fine season led by five senior matmen. In the Falls Cities Invit., Len Jacobsen became the third divisional winner in Seneca history.

With new EQP scheduling, several members of our class were able to leave school at the end of February. The rest of us weren't far behind. May 18, our last day, arrived all too soon. The Prom with Tommy Walker at the Seelbach Hotel, Awards Night, and Graduation became memories of the past. As we look back and reflect upon our six years, we cross the bridge to new experiences and opportunities, bidding Seneca High School a fond farewell.

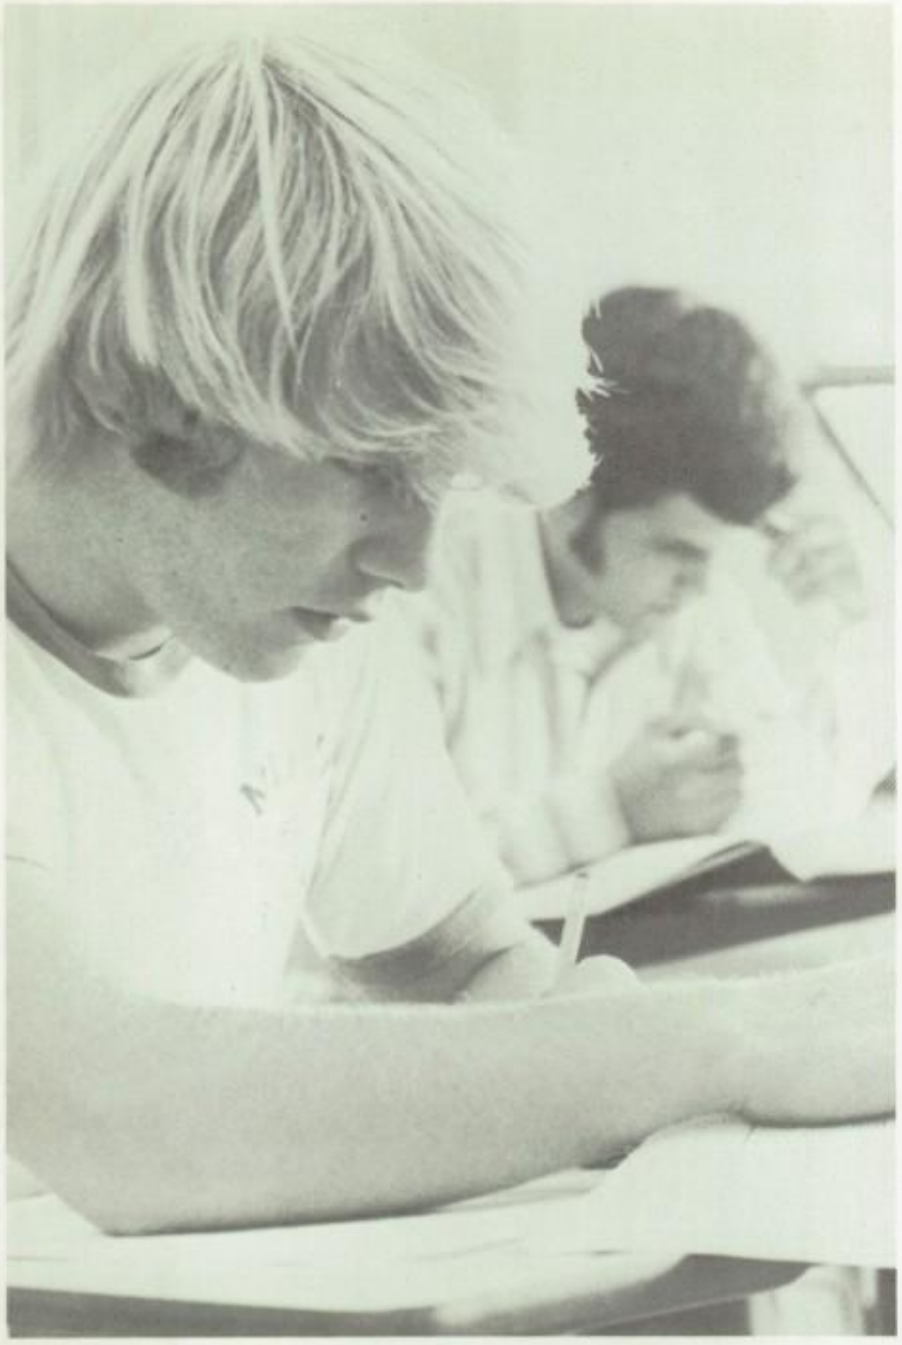
Mr. Seneca — Tom McKenzie

Miss Seneca — Susie Spurlock



Whether he is diving to another victory in a swim meet, presiding over a Student Council meeting, or participating in a class discussion, Tom McKenzie has always been an active part of Seneca. Since the beginning of high school, Tom has been involved in Seneca's athletic program. He has been a member of the swimming and diving team for four years, and has placed first in diving in several meets. Tom also played Junior Varsity and Varsity football in the tenth grade and ran track two years.

Besides his athletic prowess, Tom has served his class and school in positions of leadership. He was chosen President of the Junior Class. Under his direction, we accumulated the largest treasury of any previous class as we sponsored Football Homecoming and the most successful Junior Class Talent Show in Seneca history. He served on his class Executive Board in the ninth and tenth grade. In his senior year, Tom was elected President of the Student Council. The Council had another very successful year under his guidance. His diligence and hard work have shown his true Redskin spirit. Congratulations to Tom McKenzie, Mr. Seneca 1973.

There is one person at Seneca everybody knows. She is seen at every Seneca game and participates in many school organizations. Every day for lunch she brings a Tab, carrots, and a salad. Her name is Susie Spurlock.

Susie has been a Gray-Y and J. V. Cheerleader and on the Varsity cheerleading squad for the past three years. She was treasurer of the Pep Club in her senior year. School spirit and enthusiasm are some of her many attributes. For the betterment of the students, Susie has worked diligently on the Student Council Executive Board. Another of her accomplishments is that she not only was secretary of her class for one year, but for four years. She is known to be dependable and willing to devote her time for the benefit of her class or her friends. She also helped with and appeared in FUNNY GIRL, the Senior play.

Susie possesses a vivacious personality and always wears a smile. Beauty and grace have entitled her to reign as the 1972 Football Homecoming Queen and to be pictured on the 1973 JCL Calendar.

One doesn't often find such a versatile girl to hold the respectable title of Miss Seneca. Congratulations to Susie!

PROLOGUE

If this love could lead a heart bewildered
Over the troubled valley onto the plain
Where tranquil happiness may be restored,
Then this love shall not have been in vain.
It is not like compassion for a wounded bird,
Yet somewhat akin; more, it is knowing pain
As one heart speaks to another and is heard
Above the tempest, to still discordant refrain.
Accept this love for what it speaks to be,
Unadorned by sham, pretense, or false mockery;
It only seeks to bind in deepest devotion
What grew from chance into an adoration.
Take this love in hand and reach the plain:
It will lift your heart, and happiness sustain.

EPILOGUE

There is a time between surge and resurge
Of the tide, before sundown and twilight,
When the rain with some far-distant urge
Releases tears that fall amid half-night
While the sun, still shining over clouds,
Brings forth an artistry of intense delight
That frames a glorious archway midst shrouds
And kisses earth with heavenly hue so bright.
Once the rainbows seemed so dear and near,
My hand could almost reach out and touch
The colors one by one, separating each sheer Sliver of light; but that is now so much
In the past. The rainbow is like your face:
I must look backward now into vaster space.

A Seneca tradition was continued this year as the Junior Classical League sponsored the 1972 Calendar Girl Contest. Once again, the most beautiful girls were chosen by their represented organization to be contestants in the pageant. The master of ceremonies was Tom McKenzie, and as the numbers were called, each girl gracefully walked down the runway. Each contestant was judged according to beauty and poise. The winners, one for each month of the year and a cover girl, are perfect examples of beauty.

Christmas Parade

Each year the merchants in downtown Louisville put on a Santa Clause show and parade for the benefit of the youngsters of Kentuck-Iana metropolitan area. It is an honor and a pleasure for the Seneca Drill Corps, Marching Band, Majorettes, and the ROTC Color Guard to contribute their time and talents by participating.

International Dinner

Where can you go to sample many delicious foreign foods? Seneca's International Dinner, of course. This year's dinner, sponsored by three language groups: French, German and Spanish, was held in mid December 1972. The large Cafeteria was transformed with banners bearing Christmas greetings, candles and tablecloths for this gala event. People who attended brought their "native" country, and everyone had a chance to sample each specialty. There was plenty of food and no one went away hungry.

It all started out in the kitchen ...

Then it made its way on to the tables ...

It was enjoyed by one ...

and then by all.

Honors

For the Class of 1974, February is a very special and important month. At this time each year, Juniors decide whether or not to take the National Merit Scholarship Test. The seven people from Seneca who became Semi-Finalists last year are to be saluted for their fine work.

Students who did not quite make the scores of the Semi-Finalists are given Letters of Commendation. They, too, are to be congratulated.

1973 National Merit Semi-Finalists are: John Edwards, Joe Yates, Dan Ritchie, David Rutledge, Jan Hawley, Philip Logsdon, and Laurie Abner.

1973 Letters of Commendation Winners are: Danny Rothstein and Dale Graham.

Danny Rothstein and Dale Graham are to be praised for becoming our 1973 Letters of Commendation Winners.

Beta Club

Achievement, Character, Leadership. These three words form the motto of the Beta Club. Candidates for Beta Club membership are chosen on the basis of their academic achievements. Once initiated as members they must maintain a 3.2 grade average.

Besides sponsoring the Aurora, Seneca's literary magazine, the Beta Club initiates new members at its annual induction ceremony. At the inductions tradition is continued as the new members receive their Beta Club pin and certificate.

This year Leigh Armstrong served as president with Tom Greib - veep; Nancy Garell - sec; and Dave Shipley - treas. A new addition to the Beta Club leadership team is Mrs. Blair, who worked conscientiously as the new Beta Club sponsor.

Student Council

A student council in a high school is an invaluable tool in the relationship between the student, faculty, and administration. Seneca's student council typifies this relationship. Able leadership is provided by the president, Tom McKenzie; Veep, Sandy Barr; Treas., Barbara Adams; Sec., Pam Borah. Under the auspices of these four people, the representatives and alternates share a responsibility of informing the student body of its projects. Two activities were the Christmas Basket drive and Football Homecoming.

The Student Council is sponsored by Mr. Parker who devotes part of his time to make the council more efficient.

Arrow Staff

One fine summer evening during August "72," I decided that I would go for a walk and visit Mrs. Kraft, just to see how everything was going along. When I finally got there, I couldn't believe my eyes. There were ten Arrow Staff members gathered around a huge table down in her basement working their hearts out on the yearbook for "73." I asked Mrs. Kraft what had come over them. Those couldn't be the same people who partied all during the spring in Room 218! She assured me that they were and that they had been there several times before, working diligently on "Arrow 73." As you can see for yourselves, my first impression of the Arrow Staffers had been all wrong. They had turned out to be a bunch of hard-working young people, who are willing to go to almost any length to make this yearbook the best ever. We do judge others by their actions and accomplishments. The ARROW family proved to me that people can create several different images of themselves.

The Sentinel Staff

THE SENTINEL has a new look this year! It is no longer a newspaper, but has now become a magazine. This change has provided the Redskins with a more versatile paper. Many of the articles included now are: human interest stories, school activities, information about our school personnel, as well as editorials and student commentaries.

THE SENTINEL has functioned successfully for years under the supervision of Miss Barbara Combs. With twenty-seven competent staff members under the guidance of Editor-in-Chief Joe Yates, Seneca Redskins can look forward to a bright future in the world of news!

AURORA STAFF '72-'73

Aurora

The Aurora, Seneca's literary magazine, each year produces a volume composed strictly of work submitted by members of the student body. Any artwork, creative writing, or literary piece is accepted by the staff to be considered for publication.

Heading the Aurora Staff proper this year is Editor-in-Chief, Joe Demuth. There are three separate staffs on the Aurora - "Format," edited by Chris Head; "Art," with Freda Nethery; and "Materials," under the leadership of Nancey Garell. These students, along with their staffs, choose the best of the pieces submitted to be published in the final edition.

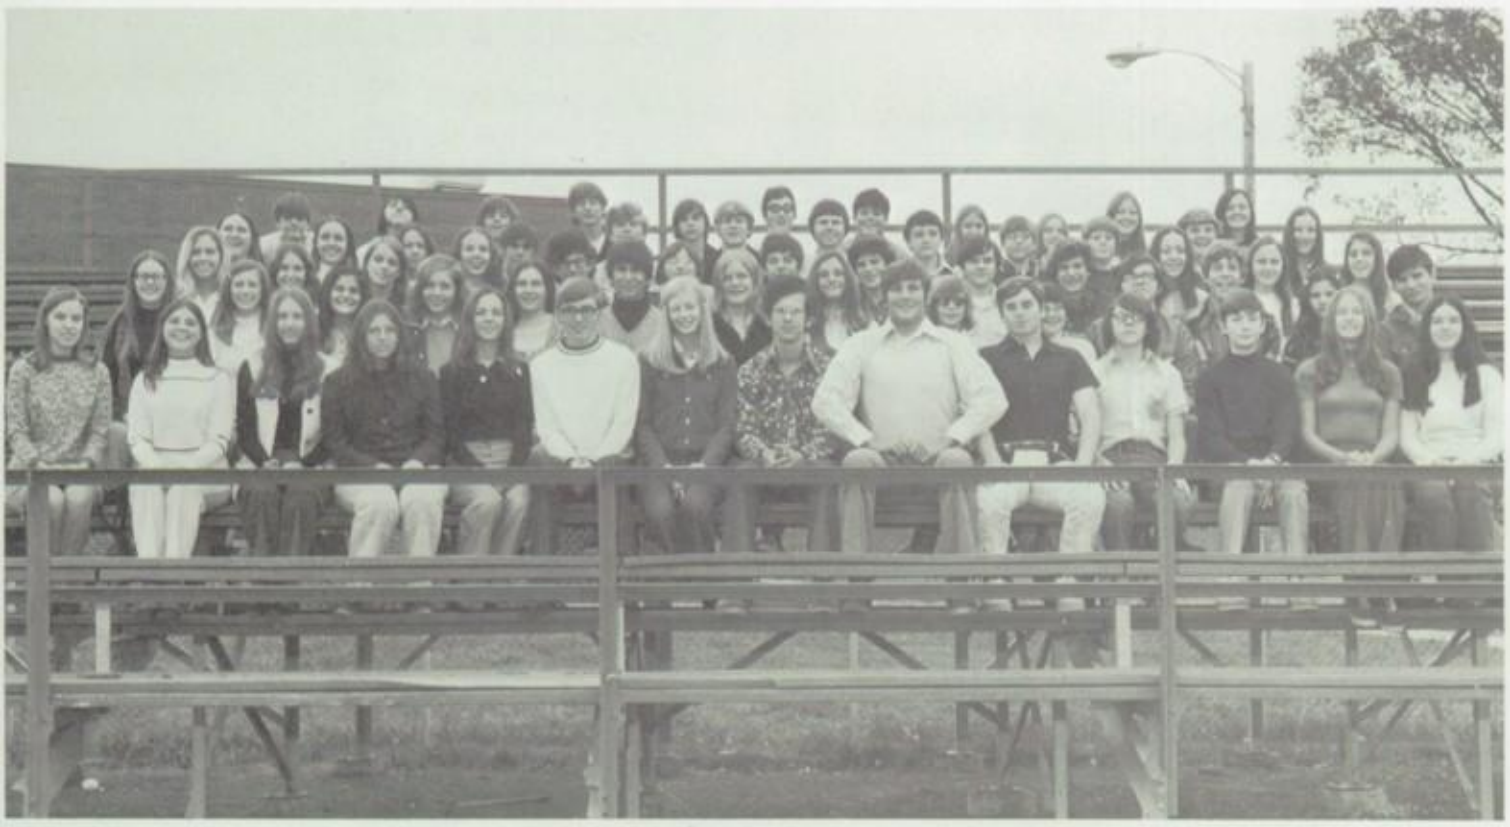
This year, the Aurora is planning to expand their genre to include work other than the usual poetry and sketches. They hope to include songs, photography, and anything that proves original and creative.

LE CIRCLE DE FRANCAIS

The newly organized French Club is under the sophisticated leadership of the French teachers, Miss Davis and Miss Brown. There were such activities as the International Dinner and International Week.

Approximately fifteen members of the French Club were also members of the French singing group.

The president of the club is Shelly Green.

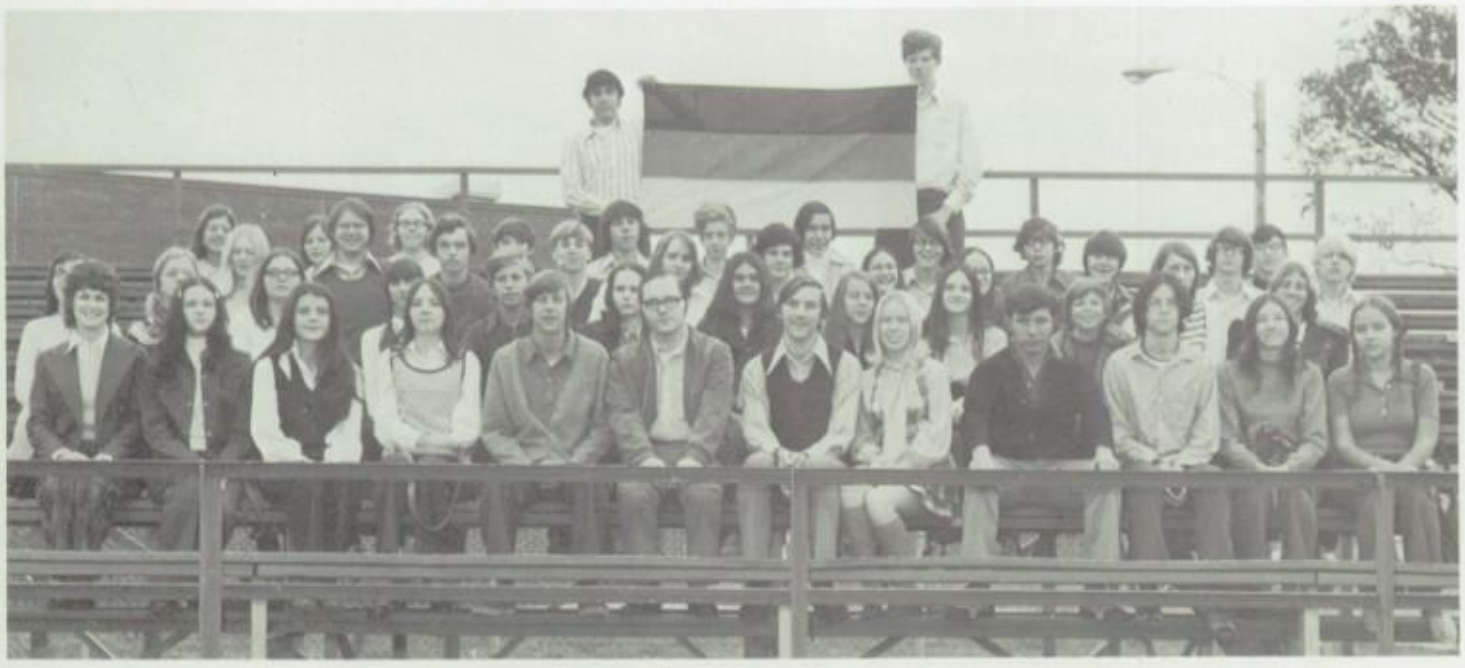


JUNIOR CLASSICUS SOCIETAS

The JCL, under the new sponsorship of Mrs. Williams, got off to a smooth start. The Calendar Contest, an annual JCL event, went equally smooth with the cooperation of its 34 contestants and their escorts.

Each year it also has its annual banquet at which everyone wears the costumes of the ancient Romans.

The JCL, each year, is able to give scholarships to several seniors.



DEUTSCHER VEREIN

Guten Tag! (Has Hitler invaded?) No! The German Club is just trying to bid you greetings from Room 331. Members of the German Club learn more, at the bimonthly meetings, about today's Germany than what is written in textbooks. Mrs. (Frau) Herren is the sponsor of these industrious students.

BEGINNING GIRL'S CHORUS

Lilting tunes, joyful gospels, soft melodies - all these have a place in the repertoire of the Seneca Choruses. Our choirs are known for their fine performances at Christmas and in the Spring. Besides being well-rounded musically, these groups present a pleasing picture to the eye with their colorful outfits.

The costume of the Chorale is best known, for their red robes and gold sashes have become traditions at Seneca. The Girl's Chorus is outfitted in turquoise, chosen for its popularity, to be worn by the girls.

New on the scene this year are the cranberry dresses of the Bel Canto. The full length gowns were chosen with formality in mind, as the deep red color is very soft and adds to the feminity of the group.

In both song and dress, Seneca has very diversified choirs.

Seneca's R.O.T.C. program is not a limited one. Perhaps this explains the increase in membership during the second quarter from 59 to 93 students.

The Cadet Club, with Joe DeMuth as captain, sponsored a turkey shoot at Thanksgiving in which eighty dollars was raised.

Two other organizations involving the R.O.T.C. are the Rifle Team and the Drill Team. The Rifle Teams 1 and 2 belong to the Louisville High School Rifle Conference in which 14 teams are involved. After four months, Team 1 attained second place in A division, and Team 2 first place in B division.

The Drill Team, or Color Guard, participates in every sports event and parade. The team will be in competition at Western Kentucky University in the spring. Last year the team took first place.

Under the direction of Mrs. Hester, Mrs. Duffy, and Mrs. Minrath, the Art Club this year had a total of thirty-two members. The Art Club, now in its thirteenth year, with Candy Lindstrom as president, has proved to be one of the most outstanding clubs at Seneca. The Art Club has made this school nicer with its many contributions, and with all these talented Redskins, who could lose!

This year there were forty-six members in the Good News Club, approximately thirty of which met every school morning. At these short meetings, there are prayers said and songs are sung. Occasionally there were evening meetings. In the fall of each year there is one day set aside for an organizational meeting. The purpose of the Good News Club is to spread the Gospel.

The club has been on WHAS Radio and has sung at several nursing homes. The members are also supporting an orphan girl in Brazil. The Good News Club is sponsored by Mr. Jackson and Mr. Playl.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Seneca's cheerleaders are truly the reflection of Lonesome's Spirit. They are the current beneath the flood of cheers that washes over a football field or basketball court. The Spirit is in them. You can see it in their faces - whether they express joy, triumph, hope, or concern. It is pride in our team that arouses these emotions.

The '72-'73 Varsity Cheerleaders, under the able leadership of Captain Gale Bryant and sponsor, Mrs. Sullivan, have done more than their share to inspire the Redskins.

J.V. Cheerleaders Tryouts . . . Evaluation . . . And Selection

Anxious faces show enthusiasm.

On May 8, last spring, the new gym was filled with many excited eighth and ninth grade spectators and fourteen very nervous girls. The event was tryouts for the 1972-73 Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, sponsored by Ms. Sullivan.

First, each girl came out and introduced herself and did her cheer and her jumps. After all fourteen girls finished this phase, they were separated into three groups and did a cheer together.

When the assembly was over, several of the girls were in tears; nervous and curious to know if they had made it.

During sixth period that day, the announcement was made that Magaret Allen, Kim Bailey, Linda Fisher, Kim Kushner, Laurie Staten, Sally Krebs and Debbie Zukof had made the 1972-73 J.V. Cheerleader squad.

See yourself as others see you.

The band's sponsor, Mr. Bostain, is very versatile and feels just as much at home at a pep rally as on a football field.

The Seneca High School Marching Band, sponsored by Mr. Bostain, won the trophy for cooperation and performance at band camp, summer of '72. The band consists of 86 members and prides itself on being one of the better in the area.

To become part of this group of young people, you must have at least a "C" average and play an instrument. There are five majorettes who are also part of the band. Their captain is Ginger Dunman, who is a Senior. Ginger and the rest of these girls went to band camp and practiced long, hard hours to perfect their performing abilities. At football games, as the band marches across the field, the majorettes add sparkle, demonstrating a variety of routines.

The drum major, Rick Ruhl, directs and leads the group with pride because he knows that they are the best.

J.C.L. Convention Winners

This year the Seneca chapter of the Junior Classical League again attended the state convention. Seneca was well represented with twenty-one enthusiastic Redskins attending the convention at Ballard High School. Held on October 11, 1972, the convention had lunch along with three general work sessions which proved interesting and successful.

Out of the twenty-one Redskins attending, ten came home with ribbons. These winners included: 1st place, Stanley Hodge; 3rd place, Dick Johnston; Costumes, 2nd place, Doug Newland, two ribbons; 3rd place, Sandy Norengerg; Greek History and Life, 2nd place, Jeff Slynn; Mythology in Latin III, 1st place, Carol Fitzgerald; 2nd place, Christy Samuels; Latin IV, 1st place, Debbie Davidson; 2nd place, Johnnie Cozine; 3rd place, Pam Duncan.

Seneca's nominee for the presidency of the Kentucky State J.C.L. was elected unanimously. Another tops for our school.

Stanley Hodge was elected the President of the Kentucky State J.C.L. Convention, 1973.

Congratulations to these students who won ribbons at the 1973 Kentucky State J.C.L. convention

SENIOR HIGH AIDES

There is quite a number of Seneca Redskins who work hard, but don't get much credit for it. These are the office aides. Seneca offices probably couldn't get along without these diligent, hard-working young people. Chaos can erupt many times during the day at Seneca, and with the help of the office aides, it is decreased to a dull roar. Thank you for making our days easier!

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA.

This year's Future Business Leaders of America is one of the largest in the club's history. The club's main purpose is to prepare students for the business world. The sponsor is Mr. Chandler.

Sponsored by Mrs. Waddell and Mr. Gleaves, the Future Teachers of America helps students decide whether they want to go into the teaching profession.

What would the entire male population do without the Future Homemakers of America? They might even starve to death! Under the leadership of Mrs. Schuble, girls learn the skills of being a homemaker.

Our custodians are rated number ONE!

We Redskins are very proud of our staffs of lunch room ladies and custodians.

Our lunch room ladies work hard to serve us efficient, well-balanced meals while the custodians keep our building a nicer place to learn in.

In 1972, our custodians received the "Trophy for Good House Keeping."

Redskins' Year Of Rebuilding

The 1972 football season revealed a year of rebuilding indigenous to teams with a new coaching staff and inexperienced players.

Coach Dan Sunberg assumed the head coach position. The acquisition of a new head coach caused anticipation of a successful season, but the team's inexperience proved to be the major opposition to realization of the goal. The departure of the 1971-72 seniors had left a team composed mainly of juniors with some seniors and a few sophomores.

The season opened with a game at Southern that proved to be a disaster for Seneca. Losses constituted the first few weeks until the Redskins beat Jeffersontown which proved the only win Seneca could muster the entire season. Seneca finished the schedule with a 1-8-1 record that included such formidable foes as Manual, Thomas Jefferson, and Westport.

Redskin spirit never slackened as the team continued to put forth 100% effort to keep alive the Redskin tradition of winning.

Even though the season ended contrary to what was expected, the coaches and players must be commended for their time and effort.

Tradition tells us - For 1973 the only way is UP!

This year's J. V. team ended the season with a 3-4-1 won-lost-tie record. Under the direction of Coach Bill Mumford and Coach Tom Carter, the Redskins had an impressive team.

They started the season off with a win over Doss. In the next four games they lost the spirit, only scoring in two of them. Then the Big Red played like they were able to, holding the next three teams scoreless and tying the number one team in the state, Trinity. With this talent going up to Varsity Ball, the Big Red should go all the way next year.

Homecoming was the highlight of the Redskin football season.

As excitement mounted, Homecoming festivities got on their way as the band introduced half-time entertainment followed by a dance routine performed by the Drill Corps. Then, the ROTC made an arch of sword blades so that the court might be presented.

Susie Spurlock was crowned Queen from a lovely court consisting of Gale Bryant, Patty Collins, and Imogene Bankston. Susan Hiles represented the underclassmen as Princess with Sylvia Dorsey, Lisa Logsdon, and Jennifer Garr, members of her court.

Rebounding from a disappointing season in the fall of 1971, this year's cross country team posted a 3-3 won-lost record.

The team participated in many invitational meets including: DeSales, New Albany, Atherton, Trinity, and the county meet.

The new season brought a new coach to the Seneca runners. Mr. Mike Simpson guided the team with the kind of enthusiasm that every young athlete deserves from his coach.

In the regional meet the team placed fourth out of eight teams, but did not qualify for the state meet competition. Senior, Rick Akam qualified individually, however, and placed eighth in the state meet at the Collings Estate as he recorded Seneca's best two mile time of the season with a 2:57 clocking. Akam also represented Seneca in the Kentucky AAU meet.

Only three runners will be lost because of graduation and the fine number of sophomore and junior prospects are sure to make the 1973 season a success.

The J. V. Cross Country team also earned a 3-3 won-lost record. In Junior Varsity competition, the younger runners gain the knowledge and experience that will one day allow them to lead the varsity team to success. The team is made up largely of sophomores, and their dedication and ability, along with the capable guidance of Coach Simpson assures us that future success is a certainty.

The Red And Gold Gang Skins 'em Alive

The 1972-73 hardcourt heroes.

Melvin Evans (14) and Wayne Cosby (41) both made all E.J.C.T. and J.C.I.T.

The 1972-73 Seneca basketball team impressed its fans with fine showmanship under the direction of a new coach, Mr. Tony Carman.

Seneca's seniors on the team this year include Wayne Cosby, Melvin Evans, Eddie Tillett, Steve Jones, Doran Dunaway, and Jim Doyer. The rest of the team is composed of juniors who are seeing varsity action for the first time.

This year's team was led by Wayne Cosby who managed to keep a scoring average in the mid-twenties. Besides playing a potent offensive game, Cosby provided an obstinate defense by grabbing many rebounds off the boards.

The play caller of the team was Melvin Evans, whose efficiency and expertise made Seneca a quick team on the court. A versatile player on the floor who played a good offensive and defensive game was Eddie Tillett.

With these stars and others, the team compiled a winning season. Teamwork was displayed throughout the season, which enabled Seneca to win.

To top off the season, Cosby became Seneca's fourth all-time leading scorer.

Lonesome looks forward to another successful season of basketball in '74!

The J. V. and Freshman Basketball teams were both under new supervision this year. Coach Moore coached the Jayvees and Coach Bolus is head of the Freshmen.

The J. V. season was rough. After a slow start they began to show how Redskins play basketball.

On the other hand, the Freshmen were playing winning basketball from the start. The Freshmen won the Durrett Invitational to prove that the Redskins are the best.

Coaches Moore and Bolus are looking forward to successful seasons next year because of the outstanding young braves.

Girls playing basketball? They do it at Seneca! For the first time in two years, Seneca had a girls basketball team. The team finished the season with an outstanding 11-2 record, placing them 2nd in the league. The team consists of 17 girls, with Mary Abell as captain and Pam Young as co-captain. Their coach is Miss Sue Owen. Evy Abell was the leading scorer with Mary Abell as the leading rebounder. With such Abell personnel, Seneca can look forward to a bright future for girls basketball.

1973 Homecoming

As the night of Feb. 9 arrived, there was an indescribable air of excitement. With Seneca's winning record, it was presumed that the team would win, especially on Homecoming night.

Adding to this spectacle was a good half-time show provided by the Drill Corps, and the ROTC, as the traditional Homecoming court was named. Jackie Harris was crowned queen and Kim Bailey crowned princess, with each receiving a bouquet of roses.

The final event of the night was the dance that followed the game with entertainment provided by Shag.

Wrestling, one of the world's most ancient sports, has come into a position of prominence at Seneca High School. Muscle, lightning speed, and quick thinking are the fine elements of a champion wrestler.

Lenny Jacobson won the championship in his weight division during the Falls City Tournament. This feat equaled the records established by three former accomplished Seneca matmen. He was named Outstanding Wrestler of the tournament, the same title bestowed on him at the New Albany Invitational Meet.

In the Regional Tourney, Lenny won the right to enter the Kentucky State Tourney. Once again he demonstrated his ability to come out on top in the 132 pound weight division by becoming the 7th Redskin to win the title, Kentucky State Wrestling Champion. Lenny posted a phenomenal season's record of 23 wins, no losses.

Seneca's wrestling squad is under the guidance of Mr. Orville Williams who has coached the team for eleven successful years; he is current chairman of the State Tournament.

The girls also accompany the team and keep score at the away matches. The Matmaids collect admissions and most important of all, cheer the team on to victory.

The Matmaids this year are: Nancy Stauffer, Diane Ballard, Janice Cooper, Ellen Miller, Vickie Shryock, Co-Captain, Mary Dillon, Captain, Dee Willis, Tina Warren, Kim Kushner, Sally Cecil, Cindy Wilbert, Diane Wirtzberger, and Denise Logsdon.

Swimming And Diving Team

The 1973 Swimming and Diving Team.

Perfect form.

Speed and stamina gain success.

According to one of nature's laws, men shall be men and fish shall be fish. Evidently, a few people have not even heard of this sensible reasonsing. The members of the Seneca Swim Team, under the supervision of Coach Harbison, appear to be more fish than men.

This successful team has one goal, to be the best in the state. In order to attend the state meets held each year at Plantation Country Club, the team must compete against various other school swim teams during the regular season. Our swimmers look forward to the event which gives them opportunity to prove to friends and family what encouragement and enough practice accomplishes.

The Redskins are behind the development of this aquatic sport which offers variety to its popular competitors, football and basketball. Let's rank Seneca high in all competition.

Junior Class Talent Show

Hot box girls selling refreshments and giving away door prizes were an added attraction to the 1972 Junior Class Talent Show. Mr. John Dickey displayed many of his own talents. The different acts were judged by Mr. Orville Williams, Mrs. Betty Mountz, and Mr. Gary Parker. Judy Steinledge who did a routine on the balance beam won first prize. The Redskins who worked on this production deserve a big hand.

The Sophomores have proved themselves successful in everything they have done. Whether a fund raising project, a dues drive, or winning Seneca Week last year as Freshmen, the class of '75 identified itself as outstanding. Officers for the current year were: President, Bruce Novicki; Vice-president, Karen Bybee; Secretary, Roshann Parris; Treasurer, Linda Fisher; Sergeants-at-Arms, Debbie Zukof and David Jones. With these people leading the way, the sophomore class has worked its way straight ... to ... the ... TOP!

Who are the supporters of "Lonesome?" The Freshman Class, that's who! They have enough pride and stamina to become the Redskin troops. The Freshmen have built a firm platform to stand on by participation in all academic and athletic activities open to their ranks at Seneca. The class officers are: President, Steve David; Vice-president, Lori Bass; Secretary, Jan Barr; Treasurer, Shelly Chaulder; Sergeants-at-Arms, Brian Davis and Patty Frank.

JUNIOR HIGH

Junior High Administration

The Junior High under the outstanding leadership and authority of Mr. William Craigmyle, the new assistant principal, has a whole new administration: Mrs. Dorcus Bingham and Mrs. Selma Stephens. Mrs. Bingham works on the files and the absentee sheets, while Mrs. Stephens serves as counselor. Their faithful attendance is what runs the Junior High Office.

Mr. Craigmyle has done a great job in the Junior High. Quiet halls and a peaceful atmosphere are the general effect on a person when he walks through the Junior High. The halls are also kept neat and clean.

Mr. Craigmyle heads up the Junior High.

Mrs. Bingham needs more than two hands for all the work she has to do.

Miss Morris catches the eye of the camera.

Junior High Activities

The spirit of a pep rally is what counts.

All for Seneca jump-up and cheer!

To pass is to study.

Could this be our hard working principal?

LEFT TO RIGHT: Devin Durrant, Kurt Smialek, Mrs. Moxley, Mrs. Douglas, Chandra Grosse, and Lamont Collins.

Junior High Student Council

The Junior High Student Council consists of representatives chosen by their classmates. Each core class elects a representative and an alternate and each spring the Junior High School elects the officers. The 72-73 officers are President, Devin Durrant; Vice-President, Kurt Smialek; Secretary, Chandra Grosse; and Treasurer, Lamont Collins.

The Student Council sponsors two events each year, a service project and a social project. For this year's service project, they went to a nursing home spreading their Christmas cheer. For this coming May, they are planning a dance for their social project. Also, they sponsored lunches at Thanksgiving and Christmas with decorated tables coordinated with the season.

These activities could not have happened without the cooperation of sponsors Mrs. Douglas and Mrs. Moxley. Along with the sponsors, the Student Council helps bridge the gap between the student body and the administration.

The Student Council Representatives and Alternates.

Junior High

Sp-ir-it - got spirit? Well, let's hear it! One of the many cheers done by the Junior High cheerleaders which sparked the crowd's spirit. This year's cheerleaders, sponsored by Miss Morris, initiated the Junior High's own Pep Club, which supported the Jr. High's football and basketball teams.

The Gray-Y football team sponsored by the Highland Y.M.C.A. is comprised of approximately thirty boys, fourteen and under. During the football season the Gray-Y founded its own Booster Club. The Booster Club sent the younger team, the Sentinels, to a special Bowl held in Somerset, Kentucky.

The Junior High Basketball team is comprised of fourteen, seventh and eighth grade boys. This year's team, sponsored by Mr. Branstetter, learned the basic fundamentals of good sportsmanship. This helps them to prepare for their years on the varsity teams. You, the Junior High athletes, are the future Braves of Seneca.

Junior High Cheerleaders and sponsor, Miss Morris.

Sports Activities

Will it or won't it?

The Junior High Pep Club.

The Junior High Basketball Team.

The seventh grade band at their best.

A Band Of Redskins

How does Redskin music begin? It starts with the Junior High Band. The main purpose of the Junior High Band is to prepare the younger band members for the Senior High Marching Band. They are taught how to march in formations at football games, parades, and contests as well as how to play Redskin music.

The Junior High Band is able to participate with the Senior High Orchestra in special activities such as concerts and music programs. This year's directors are Mrs. Patricia Brannon, Orchestra and Mr. David Bostain, Band. We are looking forward to seeing these new faces in the Senior High Marching Band.

Mr. Bostain teaching good old Redskin music.

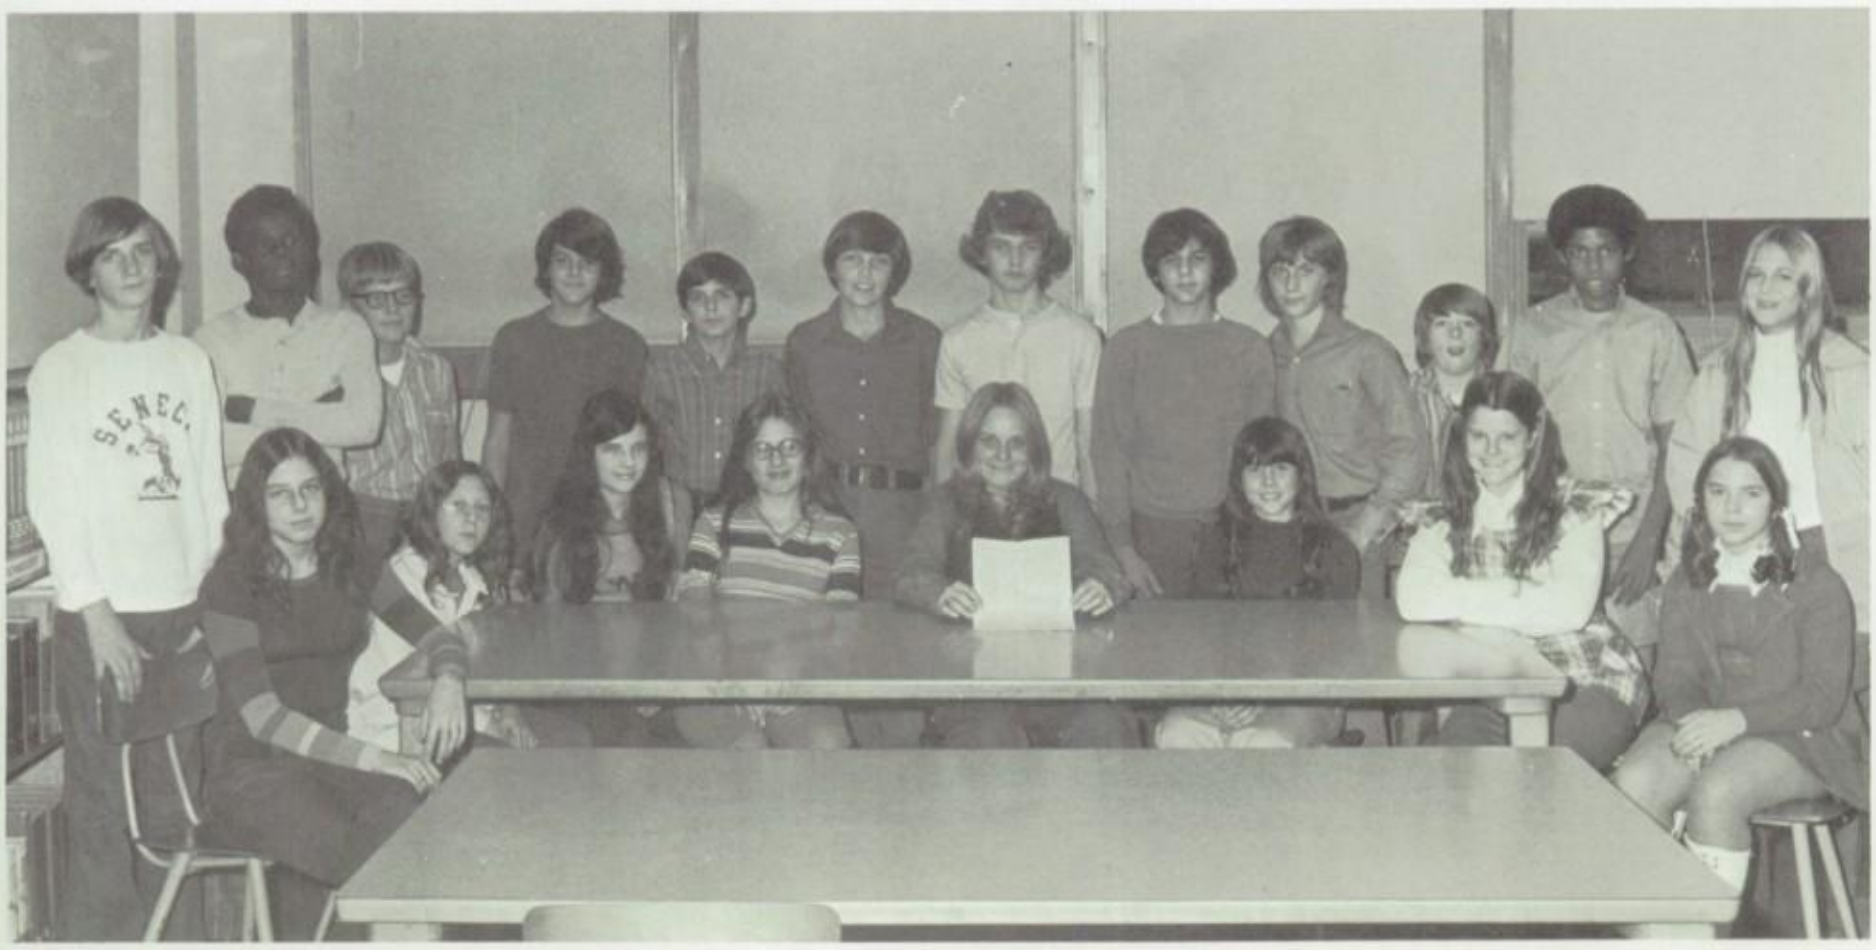
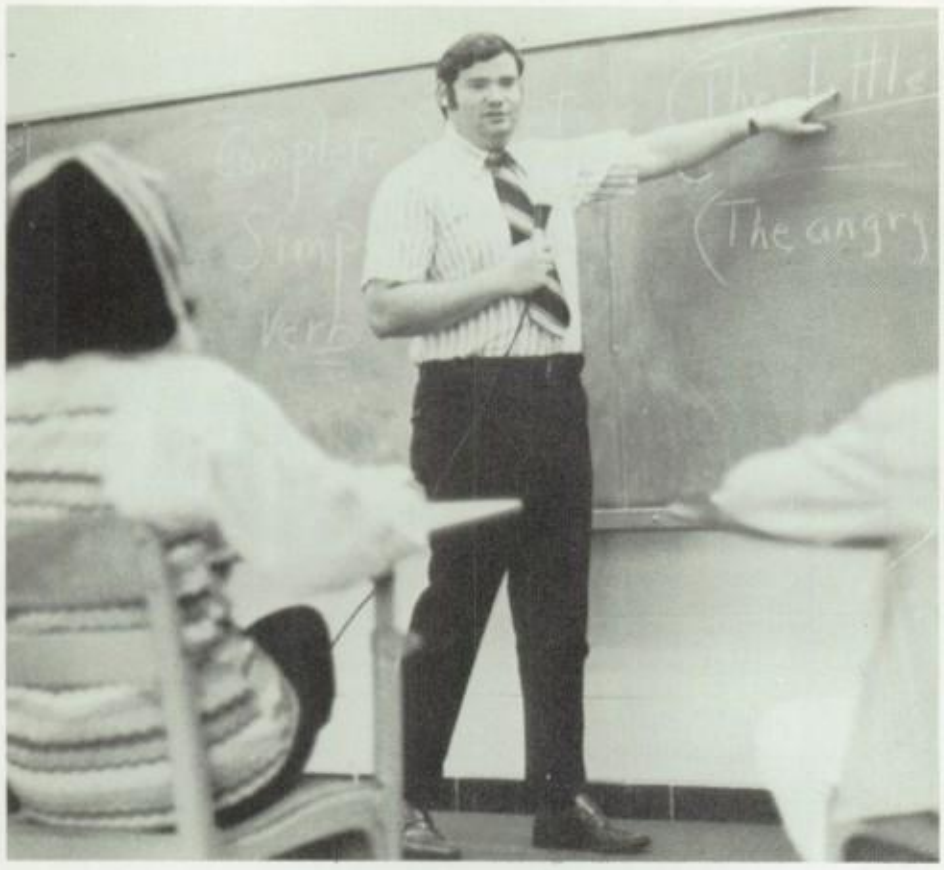
"The Papoose" was the name given to the Junior High newspaper four years ago when it was first published. Each month a different core class and teacher are in charge of its publication. As a result "The Papoose" gives everyone in the Junior High a chance to participate in the activities of publishing a paper. Any Junior High student may submit an article for inclusion to the core class in charge.

There are many different kinds of articles in "The Papoose." They range from editorials to sports activities. Other things included are stories, crossword puzzles and art work. "The Papoose" sells for a nickel a copy and the profit is used for the next publication. The greatest advantage of the paper is to give the Junior High student a chance to express a viewpoint and to become involved.



One of the many Junior High newspaper staffs



A time for work ... a time for play.

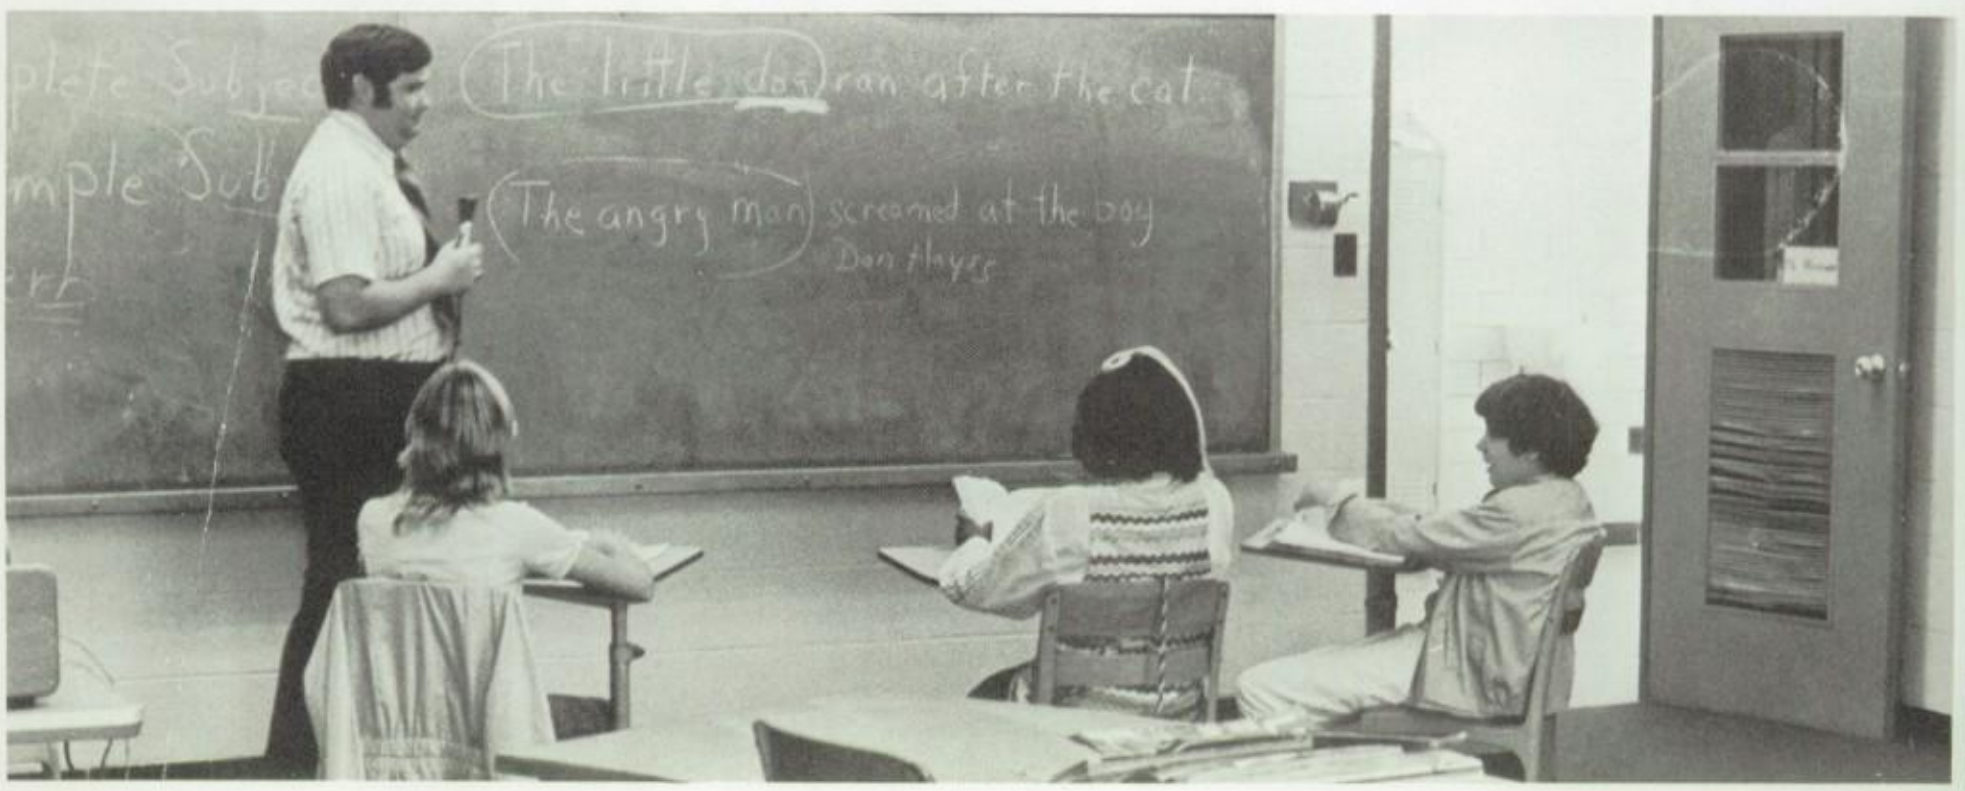
Something New Added To Seneca

Seneca is the only school that has a special class for the few students in Jefferson County who are deaf. This program is set up and run by Mr. Risner. He concentrates on teaching English and math to the deaf. If the students need any resource information he obligates himself to them first period.

The primary purpose for this program is to have an environment full of different kinds of people and many forms of communication. Getting the students integrated into a large school is the key.

There is a room that is specially designed for this class. Curtains are around walls with carpeting on the floor to cut out all unnecessary noises. Mr. Risner wants the students to hear his voice only. Equipment is also used for a better comprehension. A microphone is used to amplify his voice, records, tapes, etc. The phonic ear helps completely deaf students pick up sound.

Mr. Risner enjoys this different kind of teaching and would not give it up. It takes a lot of effort and determination on the students' part. He sums it up by saying, "It is rewarding and gratifying to work with handicapped kids."



The microphone is one of the devices that captivates attention.

Sixth Grade Day

Each year Seneca High School is honored by the visit of several hundred sixth graders from nearby grade schools. The purpose of their visit is to give them a chance to become acquainted with their new school. They are taken on a tour through the school and by the end of the day you'll find them singing our school's song, "Seneca Forever."

This year Seneca received only half of its regular seventh grade enrollment due to a new school called Mary Myers Middle School.

Mr. McCarthy lends a hand.

Could this be the highlight of their visit?

Farewell Mr. Glasgow

It is hard to believe that Mr. Glasgow has left us after all these years. Ever since 1957 when Seneca first opened, he contributed his fine leadership on the faculty as: counselor, assistant principal, and principal of the junior high.

Now Mr. Glasgow has moved to take over as principal at Mary Myers Middle School. As a going away present, the junior high students presented him with his own wall hanging of Lonesome. We Redskins would like to wish him all the luck in the world at his new school.

Just a little something in remembrance.

THE END!

Eddie Laity and friend in a pensive mood.

In an age when the so-called 'four letter word' is gaining in popularity as a mark of sophistication for some, consider what one famous man once said about Profanity.

"It is no mark of a gentleman to swear. The most worthless and vile, the refuse of mankind, swear as well as the best dressed and educated gentleman. No particular endowments are requisite to give a finish to the art of cursing. The basest and meanest of mankind swear with as much tact and skill as the most refined; and he that wishes to degrade himself to the very lowest level of pollution and shame should learn to be a common swearer. Any man has talents enough to learn to curse and to imprecate perdition on himself and his fellow men.

Profane swearing never did any man any good. No man is the richer or wiser or happier for it. It helps no one's education or manners. It commends no one to any society. It is disgusting to the refined, abominable to the good, insulting to those with whom we associate, degrading to the mind, unprofitable, needless, and injurious to society; and want only to profane His name, to call His vengeance down, to curse Him, and to involve His vengeance, is perhaps of all offenses the most awful . . . ."
